

60,000 Men Go To Work Monday in State on WPA Jobs, Herzog Announces

Projects Totalling $20,000,000 Will Go Under Way Soon; Warrants for Additional $150,000,000 To Require Weeks.

COMPLETION OF PLANS

List of Projects To Which Funds Will Be Applied Will Be Completed Tonight.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP)—Nearly 60,000 men will be put to work Monday on upstate New York Works Progress Administration projects, Administrator Lester W. Herzog said today.

The men will be employed on projects to be started with the approximately $20,000,000 in works progress money now available, Herzog said.

The administrator sent telegrams to directors of each of the 11 upstate districts, informing them of their quotas.

Ten thousand men will be put to work in district three, White Plains, and in district 12, Buffalo, Herzog announced.

Other quotas are: District one, Glens Falls, 4,000 men; district two, Albany, 6,000; district four, Mineola, 5,000; district six, Utica, 2,000; district seven, Syracuse, 4,000; district eight, Binghamton, 3,000; district nine, Rochester, 8,000; district 10, Elmira, 4,000; district 11, Lockport, 3,500.

A list of the projects to which the funds will be applied probably will be completed by tonight, Herzog announced.

Herzog also announced receipt of $4,455,732 in federal funds. This brings to nearly $20,000,000 the fund now ready to be applied to approved upstate projects.

"By tonight we hope to have a list of projects compiled to which at least half the sum now available will be allotted," Herzog said.

The funds received today consisted of three warrants signed by Comptroller J. R. McCall. One was for $4,015,845, another for $426,700 and a third for $13,187.

Herzog was still unable to say just how many men would be put to work on the new projects by the middle of next week.

Comptroller McCall has approved an additional $150,000,000 for upstate projects, but the warrants have not yet been signed. Herzog said it might be several weeks before the entire amount is released.

WOODBOURNE PRISON GUARD

INJURED WHEN AUTO SKIDS

Sam Andrews, a guard at the new Woodbourne prison, was injured Tuesday morning, when his Plymouth sedan skidded on the wet road near the bridge at Greenfield and turned over twice.

Andrews was formerly a guard at Nanuet. He was taken to his home in Ellenville by Sergeant Hopkins and Trooper Reynolds.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP)—The position of the treasury on October 23 was: Receipts, $114,922,306.70; expenditures, $79,040,242.74; balance, $1,529,442,461.23; customs receipts for the month, $23,630,342.46. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $1,182,918,399.62; expenditures, $2,482,942,539.81 (including $1,104,322,456.21 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $1,300,024,140.19; gross debt, $29,442,735,773.69; an increase of $48,209,938.56 over the previous day; gold assets, $9,429,137,122.63.

Recovered Her Money

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Julia Stawicka, of this city, was happy again today. She had recovered $4,694.11 in cash, lost in a local department store. The money, in a brown paper bag, lay unnoticed on the floor of the store (W. T. Grant) for more than an hour yesterday before an unidentified person discovered it and turned the package in to the store's lost and found department.

To Press Charges

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Mark Graves today announced that in spite of the death of Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fiegenheimer New York State plans to press its action to recover income taxes which the Bronx racketeer allegedly evaded. "If Schultz left an estate of sufficient size," Graves said, "New York State will secure its tax and penalties."

Moffett Field to Army.

San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 25 (AP)—Moffett Field, the navy's dirigible base, joined the army today. There was no fanfare or ceremony scheduled in the change-over from navy jurisdiction, and the only speech making was in the form of a protest from civic organizations of the San Francisco Bay area.

Auto Run Off Road

Yesterday an automobile bearing the license plates of the motor bureau of Henry B. Smith of Greenfield, ran off the bank on West Street yesterday. The car was towed to the Dr. Smith Garage. No one was reported injured.

Heiselman's Record

A Series of Editorial Studies of What Mayor Heiselman Has Accomplished in the Past Two Years and Plans for the Future.

No. 18

More City Improvements

One of the major work relief projects undertaken and carried to a successful conclusion during the past two years under the administration of Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman has been the construction of 11 miles of sewers in the city. In addition to the installation of sanitary sewers and storm drains a sewage pumping station was erected at Lincoln street and Clinton avenue.

This station at present serves about 41 existing houses in that locality. At the intersection of Lincoln street and Clinton avenue there is a natural drainage which collects the storm water during heavy rains. To drain this area would require a very expensive storm drain through a deep rock cut carried to Flatbush avenue and down Flatbush avenue to Foxhall avenue.

In order to avoid this large expenditure of money it was suggested that this storm water be taken into the pumping station and pumped into the East Chester street combined sewer. This was accomplished by installing a butterfly valve in the storm drain line which regulates the flow to the capacity of the pumps, and also will shut off the storm water in case the power which operates the pumps was shut off.

Another project that has bettered conditions in the Third ward was the construction of the Foxhall avenue drain, which extends from Hasbrouck avenue to the Barmann outlet, which takes all of the drainage from the easterly slope. Heretofore this drainage was taken into the sanitary sewer which was unable to carry the enormous amount of water with the result that the sewer backed up and the streets became flooded. This conditions has now been overcome by the building of the new drain.

Another much needed improvement was the building of a combined sewer in Delaware avenue. The houses on Delaware avenue adjacent to Hasbrouck Park were troubled with water coming into the houses during heavy rains. The water drained off the slope on the south side of the athletic field and flowed across the field into the houses. A new combined sewer was installed to intercept this drainage and also concrete gutters were constructed on either side of the field to collect the drainage and prevent erosion of the field. By this construction work the houses near Hasbrouck Park were enabled to discard their cesspools and connect their sanitary fixtures to the new combined sewers.

Work of ERB Highly Praised By Heiselman At Big Rally

Mrs. Schueler Given Life Term Today for Killing Step-Daughter

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 25 (AP)—A life term at the Connecticut state prison for women in Niantic faced 25-year-old Ada Mildred Schueler of Stamford, today.

A jury in superior court here found her guilty of second degree murder late yesterday in connection with the death of her nine-year-old step-daughter, Marilyn.

Judge John Rufus Booth heeded State's Attorney William H. Conley's request for an immediate sentence and said:

"The verdict leaves the court no alternative. I therefore sentence this woman to the Connecticut state prison for women for the balance of her life."

During the trial, which began on Thursday of last week, the defense did not attempt to deny that Mrs. Schueler, in a fit of rage, beat Marilyn to death in the kitchen of the Schueler home last September 6.

Rather, an acquittal was sought for the former student nurse on the grounds of insanity. The defense stressed her alleged unhappy home life as a child and introduced medical testimony to show she was epileptic and subject to violent seizures in which she could not control her actions.

The prosecution, conducted mainly by Assistant State's Attorney Loris Willis, pictured Mrs. Schueler as a brutal disciplinarian to the nine-year-old girl, subjecting her to frequent beatings and injuring her severely several times.

Marilyn's death early last month was attributed by a medical examiner to a ruptured kidney and other internal injuries. She was thrown to the kitchen floor and kicked, the prosecution claimed.

The jury deliberated the case a little less than two hours.

Play Gets Bill of Health.

Chicago, Oct. 25 (AP)—Free to continue under a federal court injunction the production of "Tobacco Road," banned by Mayor Kelly Monday as "A mass of obscenity," the promoters today were faced with the problem of finding a suitable theater. Federal Judge William H. Tolly, who read the script of the show and gave it a clean bill of health, issued an order restraining the Mayor and the police from interfering with the presentation until November 1. The order also prevented the mayor from revoking or threatening to revoke the license of any theater presenting the show, but it did not affect the one already revoked by the mayor last Monday.

Two Arrests Made

Deulah P. Scamata of 44 West Chestnut street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of driving her car past a red light. The hearing was set down for Saturday in police court. James Myers, 22, a native of New York City, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct in lefting about Broadway with no visible means of support, had his hearing adjourned to Saturday.

Bold La Harried

The district attorney of Hartford, Conn., sent a message to the Kingston police department yesterday that the authorities there were holding Taylor and Samuel Cooper, two brothers, on a charge of stealing poultry.

"We are proud of the work accomplished by the men on the ERB during the past two years, and the residents of the city have the right to feel proud of the work of their fellow citizens who have carried on such worthwhile projects as the construction of new sewers and streets," said Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, speaking last night at the big rally held by the Republican City Club in Modern Hall on Grand street.

The mayor was given round after round of applause as he spoke briefly of the work accomplished under his administration. Other speakers were Miss Natalie Couch of Rockland county, Harry H. Flemming, the Republican candidate for the supreme court bench, District Attorney Cleon B. Murray, and Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk. The evening's program had been arranged and was in charge of the members of the Republican Woman's Club of the city.

Mayor Heiselman in the course of his address said that he was still waiting to hear Candidate Martin make public his policies and his plans of administration if elected mayor. Information the people of Kingston, whose vote the candidate was seeking, were entitled to know.

The mayor devoted the greater part of his address to the work of the ERB during the past two years, as he had stated last week he would discuss that subject last night. Mayor Heiselman said that the federal and state money allotted Kingston had not been wasted in the past two years in building monkey houses, but had been used in affording work for the greatest number of men. More men had been employed on the work relief program during his administration than at any other time since the work relief program was adopted by the federal government.

Mayor Heiselman said that when the plans of the proposed WPA were made public—(this is the plan President Roosevelt has announced) will take men off home relief to give them work, but which has failed to start operations as yet—he is in order to afford work for 1,500 men of Kingston had laid 197 projects with the WPA at Albany of a total cost of over a million and a half dollars. This construction program would give men work for a year.

The mayor told of the accomplishment of the men of the ERB and its engineering force in constructing the new Henry street sewer and how the problem of disconnecting the old standpipes to the old sewer 22 to 24 feet beneath the surface of the ground was solved by the ERB engineers. The mayor had a blue print showing the work and how

Police Hold Beer Baron's Roosevelt To Present Widow for Possible Clue To Killer of 4 Gangsters

Chaufeur Rosenkrantz Died Early Today; Schultz Succumbed to Wounds in Newark City Hospital Early Thursday Evening.

TALKED TO SCHULTZ

Mrs. Fiegenheimer Said to Have Talked With Husband in Tavern An Hour Before Shooting.

SLAIN DUTCH SCHULTZ

Newark, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—Newark police held the young widow of Arthur (Dutch) Schultz) Fiegenheimer today in the hope she can supply some clue in a sweeping search for the assassins of the gang chieftain and three henchmen.

The 21-year-old woman, Mrs. Frances Fiegenheimer, was booked as a material witness last night, less than three hours after Schultz died of the wounds inflicted by rival gang bullets.

The racketeer himself, overlord of the beer business in the Bronx in the prohibition era and later a figure in other rackets, gave the police no help.

He died at 8:35 p. m., yesterday in City Hospital, deliriously mumbling words which those by his bedside could not understand.

Bernard Rosenkrantz, Schultz's chauffeur and one of the quartet mowed down in a cafe gun battle Wednesday night, died early today.

Otto Berman and Abraham Landau, alias Leo Frank, the other members of Schultz's party, preceded their leader in death.

Martin Krompfer, who met a hail of bullets in a New York barber shop about two hours after the Newark shooting, was in a critical condition in a New York hospital.

New York detectives pressed their search for Albert Stein, 21-year-old mobster suspected of several recent killings in the outbreak of gang warfare in the Metropolitan area.

Charles Luciano, described by New York officials as the most powerful gangster in Manhattan, also was sought for questioning.

Police believed the attempt to wipe out the Schultz gang was a move of rival mobs to gain control of rackets estimated to produce as much as $100,000,000 a year in revenue in the metropolitan district.

"Apparent Discrepancies" Deputy Police Chief John Haller of Newark, after ordering Mrs. Fiegenheimer held in the women's jail at police headquarters over night, said the widow would be questioned "on apparent discrepancies in what she has told us."

"We are not satisfied her story of her movements is correct," Haller said, adding that she admitted she talked with Schultz in the East Park street tavern an hour before the gun battle.

Police also intended to check thoroughly information supplied anonymously last night a few minutes after Haller made a radio appeal for aid in identifying the assailants.

A man telephoned the station giving the names of a man and a woman, who he said have police records.

A check at the bureau of identification in New York disclosed the man named does have a record, but officers at the bureau were inclined to doubt the theory he was involved in the shootings.

They suggested the call may have been made by someone having a personal grudge.

The man in question—a resident of the Bronx—was added, however, to those sought for questioning.

Autopsy on Schultz

An autopsy on Schultz's body was ordered. Physicians said one bullet entered his chest and another his right side and coming out the left side.

It was his first experience with hot lead, but he knew several hours before he died that his end was near. Tracked with pain, he called for the Rev. Cornelius J. McInerney, a Catholic priest, whom he had known for years.

While Schultz was being prepared for a second blood transfusion, Father McInerney baptized him, heard his confession and administered extreme unction.

President indicates there is room for little discretion due to the American position of strict neutrality.

RE-STATEMENT LIKELY

Roosevelt at Press Talk Says Embargoes Will Be Considered When Question Arises.

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP)—A prompt reply was promised by President Roosevelt today to inquiries about the American attitude toward League of Nations sanctions applied in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

The president indicated a feeling that there is room for little discretion in the matter of an answer because this government's position is strictly dictated by the neutrality law.

That strengthened the feeling in some quarters that the reply would be used as a vehicle for a re-statement of the United States' attitude to keep hands-off things which do not concern it. The neutrality resolution under which this country now operates does not permit the application of many sanctions like those used by the league.

The president said, however, that he would not make the reply to the league's inquiry but that it probably would come from the state department.

Asked at his press conference about embargoes on oil and copper, the president said those questions would be taken up when they arose.

As for the naval conference called by Great Britain, Mr. Roosevelt said he had gone no further than to say that a delegation would be sent. He has not determined who will constitute that delegation.

Asked if the new budget for next year contemplates construction of a battleship, the president replied the naval treaties provide for replacement of a battleship in 1937. He said plans for such a ship were being studied but it was not determined whether the battleship would be built.

When a questioner remarked that the Standard Oil Company was selling oil to Italy—despite the president's warning weeks ago that any who engaged in transactions with Italy or Ethiopia did so at their own risk—Mr. Roosevelt replied that he understood this was simply a continuation of a normal business.

"Long Term" AAA Plan.

President Roosevelt sought today to point the farm program away from an "emergency" application to a "long term" plan, asserting that the latter "is developing naturally out of the present adjustment efforts."

In a statement issued at his first post-vacation press conference, the president remarked it was not the intention of congressional framers of the act or administrators of the law to let the AAA be "either a mere emergency operation or a static agency."

Endorse Governor Landon.

Topeka, Oct. 25 (AP)—Kansas Republican leaders today endorsed Governor Alf L. Landon for the Republican presidential nomination. The action came at a meeting of members of the state committee, state of electors, congressmen, Senator Arthur Capper and other party leaders called for the purpose of raising pre-convention campaign funds for the Republican national committee.

Governor Landon was not present. He has not indicated whether he will be a candidate.

Condition of Miss Nichols

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP)—The condition of Ruth Nichols, the aviatrix, injured in the crash of a barnstorming plane Monday, remains "about the same," her physician said today. Dr. Emmott Howd gave no further details in his usual morning bulletin, except to add that her condition would not permit her to be seen by anyone except physicians and hospital attendants.

Typhoon in China.

Tientsin, China, Saturday, Oct. 26 (AP)—The worst typhoon in north China coast in years lashed this port early today, killing at least six persons. The 1,000-ton steamer Wahahung was hurled up on the rocks.

No Formal Welcome

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—Former Mayor James J. Walker will be met at Quaratine next Thursday by several hundreds of his friends, according to reports today. They will escort him to the liner Manhattan's pier but plan no formal welcome.

Dr. Brown Dies.

Northampton Mass., Oct. 25 (AP)—Dr. Edward W. Brown, 64, a close friend of former President Calvin Coolidge and a local examiner of Hampshire county, for the last 20 years, was found dead in bed at his residence here today. He died of a heart attack.

Shrieking Kafa Warriors Smite Imaginary Foes

Addis Ababa, Oct. 25 (AP)—Ethiopia's former minister of war, Fitawrari Birru, who was once exiled and then pardoned by Emperor Haile Selassie, rode triumphantly into the capital today at the head of an army.

Riding with dash and abandon, the 1,000 shrieking Kafa tribal warriors rushed in review past the king of kings.

The emperor also reviewed 10,000 Galla swordsmen under Dedjazmach Aptemariam Gabreg-zachar.

"Oh, Emperor, give us modern rifles so that we may slaughter our enemies," shouted the warriors, throwing down their old flintlocks and blunderbusses before the Lion of Judah.

Other warriors performed grim African war dances, brandishing swords and daggers at imaginary enemies in terrifying fashion.

The medieval cavalcade occupied five hours, after which the feudal chiefs were received by the emperor who kissed them on both cheeks.

Haile Selassie's courtiers shielded the imperial kases with shawls so that the crowds might not witness them.

Dedjazmach Makonnen Demisse, governor of Wallega, will arrive in the capital next Tuesday en route to the front with 60,000 men, to be followed by Dedjazmach Makonnen Abeneal, governor of Gore Province, with 50,000 followers and Dedjazmach Taye, governor of Shoa Ghimira, with 10,000.

Two Persons Charged With Mass Murder of 6 Near Seattle in 1934

Seattle, Oct. 25 (AP)—Defiant and close-lipped, Leo Hall, 33, resisted questioning concerning a mass murder mystery today after authorities said he had been implicated in the crime by the confession of a woman.

Sheriff William B. Severyne said Mrs. Larry Poulos, 28-year-old beer parlor waitress, who signed a confession accusing the former boxer and dry dock worker of slaying six persons at a gay house party on Erland's Point in March, 1934.

The alleged confession said Mrs. Poulos and Hall, masked and wearing goggles, entered the Frank Filander home in quest of "easy money," and after the six people in the house were robbed the victims were killed so "they couldn't talk."

Through the night of questioning, Hall maintained his stoical attitude. "Hall seems to have a lot on his mind," said Detective Captain Ernest Yorls of the Seattle homicide squad. "We have a lot of corroborative evidence for Mrs. Poulos' statement."

Earlier in the evening, O. K. Bodla, chief criminal deputy sheriff, had declared:

"We have the man beyond a doubt, and we don't care if he never confesses."

Hall was arrested Wednesday at Portland, Ore., on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The victims in the Erland's point tragedy, some beaten, some shot, and one stabbed, were Mr. and Mrs. Filander, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chenery, Magnus Jordan and Ezra M. (Fred) Bolcom.

The statement put the robbery-slays on the night of March 23, 1934. Mrs. Poulos, in her alleged confession, said she trusted up the victims but fled after she saw Hall come out of Mrs. Filander's bedroom with blood on his clothes, and—armed with a knife—take one of the men into another room. It said Hall shot at her as she fled.

At one point in the statement, the waitress said she had seen Hall two or three days after the robbery and that Hall "told me he had killed them all."

WINTER WEATHER

Some Reported Today in Catskills and Adirondacks

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP)—Winter weather greeted upstate New Yorkers today as snow was reported in some sections of the Adirondacks and Catskills.

An inch and a half of snow was reported overnight at Rossville in the Adirondacks. An inch was reported at Conestogah. There was a light snow storm at Windham in the Catskills.

PATH TO PEACE

England's Monarch Says Critical Situation Has Aroused His Gravest Concern.

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

Rome, Oct. 25—Premier Mussolini put squarely up to Great Britain today the next move in diplomatic negotiations for peace in Ethiopia and tranquility in Europe.

The Italian government sent the Steamship Sannio to Libya to bring back the first of the 15,000 soldiers ordered withdrawn from North African posts where they had looked across barbed wire barriers at Egypt.

Mussolini's spokesmen called this unilateral action, but diplomats saw an implied invitation to Britain to respond by removing some of its warships from their strategic posts off the African coast.

A government spokesman said Il Duce's decision to withdraw almost one-fifth of his Fascist forces in Libya represented a "major contribution" to a solution of the problem of peace, not only in Europe but also in East Africa.

The Sannio, dispatched from Naples, can transport 2,000 men. The present Libyan garrison is unofficially estimated at 80,000 Italian and native troops.

The men to be withdrawn are members of the Maturo Division, the Italian Colonial Expeditionary force which sailed from Naples its departure never announced officially—after Italian warships began to concentrate in the Mediterranean.

Italian officials emphasized Italy's gesture as particularly generous, insisting the Libyan reinforcements were sent only to preserve internal security.

"We have not sent soldiers to Libya to fight British battleships," they explained.

Italians hoped their Libyan gesture would indicate that the Fascist regime was determined on European collaboration, even though it might jeopardize the security of its North African possessions.

London, Oct. 25 (AP)—King George expressed "gravest concern" over the Italo-Ethiopian crisis today in an address on prorogation of the eighth parliament of his reign.

Domestically, he noted the kingdom's "further considerable advance toward prosperity" in a speech which was read by Lord Hallahan before the assembled Houses of Commons and Lords.

The address included the paragraph which appears in all the king's peace-time speeches: "My relations with foreign powers

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Shot Game.

Philadelphia—Police hunting three hungry burglars in a grocery opened the first three compartments in the store's ice box and pulled out one. They opened the second and found nobody. They opened the third and saw legs sliding down into the second. Then they opened both doors at once and pulled out the other two burglars.

A Miami University junior, he works 50 hours a month for the National Youth Administration; puts in 24 hours as an assistant in the department of physics; spends five or six hours a week grading papers; acts as an office boy for a cab company several hours a night; carries 20 hours of academic work, audits another two hour course; plays in the university band—and habitually makes straight "A's."

Keeping It Straight.

Chicago—Eugene Nelson, paroled from the Michigan City, Ind., penitentiary resented it when deputy chief of detectives Walter Storms at a police showup pointed him out to robbery victims as a man who had been arrested "about 200 times."

"You're kidding," said Nelson. "not more than thirty times." Chief Storms glared at him.

"Well, maybe fifty times, but not any more."

Nice Beginning.

Milwaukee—His first supplies have arrived, but Raleigh Gamble, superintendent of street construction, said he didn't know where to start WPA repair job.

At the outset of the government's program Gamble said he filed regulations for sand, gravel, tools and miscellaneous supplies. The first shipment was delivered to him Thursday. It was a box of a dozen erasers.

'Cheat-Wheat' From Gobi May Restock 'Dust Bowl' Of America's Grain Belt

Kingston (AP)—A hardy little cousin of the wheat-grass family which has been braving the winds of the Gobi desert for thousands of years may be means of restoring the "dust" of the American middle-west productivity.

Dr. Nicholas Roerich, head of an expedition sent by the United States department of agriculture to scour Mongolia for drought-resisting plants, says he places more reliance on this little forage plant than on the other 900 varieties found in the expedition.

It's Called "Cheat"
This grass, which looks like timothy, goes commonly by the name "cheat-wheat," but it also bears a scientific title—"agropyron pseudogracillimum."

It thrives in sandy and gravelly soil and stands up under bitter exposure of temperature. The expedition found it growing luxuriantly in deserts where few other forms of grass exist.

It ranges in height from eight to twelve inches and its roots are extraordinarily long. Cattle grow fat on it.

Dr. Roerich says that the Gobi variety of cheat-wheat resembles other members of the same family which are found in the United States and Europe but that it is much harder on its foreign cousins.

Poa Grass in Collection
Other specimens of forage plants secured by the Roerich expedition include a type of melilotus, several species of poa grass, wild barley, and stipa. The latter, which grows in abundance in Mongolia, bears close resemblance to Kentucky blue grass, but are superior to the American grass in drought-resisting qualities, Dr. Roerich claims.

But the American waste-lands can be reclaimed by the transplanting of grasses alone, the plant expert points out. Other plants essential to the establishment of a "homelike" environment must also be moved. Accordingly, the expedition has brought out of Mongolia numerous shrubs, weeds, legumes, and samples of soil.

The legumes, according to Dr. Roerich, are likely to prove especially valuable. They have the same

"hard-boiled" quality of resisting drought as the grasses and, furthermore, store nitrogen for the enrichment of the soil.

Roerich Heads for India
Leguminous plants obtained by the expedition include native alfalfa, clover and lespedeza.

Wild asters of several kinds, wild cauliflower and diminutive vine-like plants that sprawl over wide areas also have been brought from the Gobi.

After completing his work of classification here, Dr. Roerich will proceed to northern India to join another American botanical expedition in the Himalayas.

A Dutch astronomer has discovered an unnamed far-off star which carries 180,000 degrees Fahrenheit. That is about as hot as a modern jazz orchestra.

Community Armistice Service at Auditorium Sunday, November 10

For the first time since the World War the city of Kingston is being asked to participate in a Community Armistice Service to be held in the Municipal Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, November 10. This service is being sponsored by the county organization of the American Legion which is cooperating with the Kingston Ministerial Association in making this one of the outstanding gatherings in the interest of Armistice Day and all that it signifies. All ex-service men of Ulster county will be asked to attend this service as well as the members of the auxiliaries of these organizations. Invitations have been sent to all the fraternal and patriotic societies of Kingston to assist in this service. All of the churches of Kingston will be asked to participate in this service and showing one of the largest gatherings of the religious people of Kingston of all faiths, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish.

Under the chairmanship of the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association, who is also the county chaplain of the Ulster County American Legion, a tentative program has been worked out for this service. It will be held at 3.30 o'clock.

Closing Selection—TERA Orchestra
The speaker, Albert S. Callan of Chatham, N. Y., is well known to Kingston audiences. He is editor of the Chatham Courier, a former member of the State Assembly of the New York state legislature, a past department commander of the American Legion, department of New York. He is a brilliant speaker of commanding personality and has always been known for his high idealism and courageous efforts in the interest of national betterment and the cause of world peace. He is in great demand as a speaker and the committee is to be congratulated in being able to secure him for this service. The people of Kingston will not want to miss his stirring message on Armistice Sunday.

As a tribute of esteem and respect the Gold Star Mothers of the county will be accorded seats on the platform.

The committee in charge of the service is composed of the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association, and county chaplain of the American Legion, as chairman; Eugene A. Freer, Commander of Kingston Post, Ray Woodward, commander of Ulster County American Legion; Lester Elmdorf, Alfred Messinger; Roy Jacob, John Lowther, Saugerties, Charles Parker of New Paltz, James Austin, of Wallkill; Edward Luedtke, Kingston; Conrad J. Heiselman, mayor of Kingston.

"Pathway of Empire" by Edward Hungerford

A copy of Edward Hungerford's new book, "Pathway of Empire," inscribed by the author to "Jay Klock, in token of long years of friendship," has been received by Mr. Klock.

This intensely interesting work picture of the great Empire State is comprised in a book of 325 pages, published by Robert M. McBride & Co., New York city and appropriately enough has for its frontispiece a picture of the Statue of Liberty.

Mr. Hungerford writes of New York state as a native of long-standing who knows intimately the most outstanding and colorful aspects of its background, its scenery, its legends and the amazing variety of peoples who make up its population. Like a keen biographer who realizes the value of examining all phases of his subject, he has treated with all those features that add to the veracity, yet distinctive, personality of the Empire State.

The pioneering career of the old Erie Canal, with its fascinating parade of early American commerce, the glorious story of the Hudson river, with its historical and literary heritage, are integrated in Mr. Hungerford's picture. Niagara, the sentinel of the Western Gateway cities, like Rochester, the scene of George Eastman's kodak miracle, tales of some of its distinguished residents, including Mark Twain, James Fennimore Cooper and Henry Ward Beecher, the first and the most recent railroads, the great vineyards of Keuka Lake country—these are only a few of the innumerable phases that play a vivid living part in this book. Mr. Hungerford has reflected here in a fresh and vital fashion the pulse, the activity, the tempo of the greatest and most representative of American states.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS (ADVANCE) HOLLYWOOD—"The Kid," today (October 25), reached man's estate. Jackie Coogan, now six feet tall, today is celebrating his twenty-first birthday. With this date, he comes into possession of the large fortune he made as a child actor, mostly in the days of silent films. How much that fortune is depends on who is venturing an estimate, but it has been variously reported from $500,000 up to three times that amount.

Allowance To Continue

His mother, Mrs. Lillian Coogan, president of Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., has indicated no sudden change will occur in her son's financial status as a result of his coming of age. He now receives a monthly allowance—amount, secret. He is at present a senior at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Jackie took the road to fame 16 years ago as the child companion of Charlie Chaplin in "The Kid." His antics as the winsome little ragamuffin who trailed the comedian in that picture through the vicissitudes of screen poverty won the hearts of movie-goers and the praise of critics. Thereafter his name was an asset to any film in which he appeared and his earnings grew. He played many roles in the silents, and with the coming of the talkies captured the coveted title role in Mark Twain's immortal story of boyhood, "Tom Sawyer."

No Marriage

As for his future, his mother says no definite plans have been made. She thinks he would be "moderately" successful in any business he undertook, and even suggested law to him, but Jackie balked at this.

Marriage? Mrs. Coogan says Jackie hasn't given it a thought. Jackie has ambitions to be a director of motion pictures some day. One of the courses he is taking is "photoplay appreciation." His father was killed in an automobile accident several months ago. Both he and Mrs. Coogan tried to make his life as normal as possible to offset his constant contacts with adults while before the camera, she says. She thinks they succeeded in keeping him from "growing up" too early in life.

While withholding information as to the size of Jackie's fortune, Mrs. Coogan admits it is chiefly invested in Los Angeles and Hollywood real estate.

Today

Broadway: "Charlie Chan in Shanghai." The late Earl Derr Biggers world famous fiction character continues to live dangerously despite the death of his creator and were Mr. Biggers living today, he would be proud of his Charlie Chan in his latest mission to Shanghai. For never was Chan more hard pressed than in this latest record of his adventures. The whole of the Shanghai underworld seeks his scalp and he seeks theirs and the action and mystery is piled on so fast that any audience will wonder how Chan is going to unravel a thing that seems to have no adequate beginning. Warner Oland continues to portray Chan as we would like to have him and Irene Hervey, Charles Locher, Keye Luke and Russell Hicks are featured. Orpheum: "She Gets Her Man." "Circle of Death." Zasu Pitts has a peculiar role in the opening feature at the Orpheum for she starts out as a meek, nervous little woman only to become a regular human panther cat when she accidentally thwarts a bank robbery and becomes famous in the wink of an eye. Followers of Miss Pitts will find this show to their liking. "Circle of Death" is an average western three-act melodrama with the hero hard pressed by rowdy enemies from the very start of the film. Monte Montana is the star of this offering and even though Monte is no George O'Brien, he does all right in a role that calls for nothing extraordinary in the way of dramatic art.

Kingston: Same.

Kingston: "The Bishop Misbehaves" and "Thunder Mountain." The popular stage success of the same name becomes interesting screen fare in the opening M-G-M film at the Kingston. With a fine cast headed by Edmund Gwenn, the man who made the show a treat on the legitimate stage, it tells of a bishop who works for humanity by day and who becomes an amateur detective at night. This double existence leads him into strange ways and stranger company and the whole thing is interesting to witness. Maureen O'Sullivan, Lillian Bond, Norman Foster and Lucille Watson are also in the cast. "Thunder Mountain" is adapted from Zane Grey's latest novel, and it has been made into a thrilling western drama with George O'Brien, ace of the horse riding heroes, in the starring role. It's all about men's greed for gold and Mr. O'Brien has enemies in nature and man to face before he wins the girl and all that sort of thing. Good fast entertainment.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Big Broadcast of 1936." The Paramount producers know that big names mean a scramble to the box office and here is the show that has more stars than a politician has promises. One of the biggest groupings of first water movie players, radio singers and comedians and legitimate stage favorites. The show has no special plot but is just a parade of the ranking entertainment acts of the present day and it becomes a musical, diversified entertainment, with a group of elephants substituting for the regular girl chorus in one scene just to make the whole thing take place in a radio studio and fit blithely to a desert island. Heading the talent are such names as Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman, Jessica Dragonette, Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland, Jack Oakie, Lydia Robert, Bill Robinson, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Ray Noble and his band, Amos and Andy, Wendy Barrie and a host of lesser players from the stage, screen and radio. Songs include "I Wish on the Moon" sung by Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman does "It's the Animal in Me" and Jessica Dragonette is effective in her "Alice Blue Gown" number. Grand entertainment with the biggest grouping of big names ever seen in a single production.

Orpheum: Same.

Kingston: "Anna Karenina." The first lady of the screen moves through the bitter tragedy of an unhappy love in this Clarence Brown production that merits attention because of the skill of Greta Garbo's portrayal in the starring role. There is little brightness in the film for it is a typical Tolstoy story, a study in broken faith and love and the ending brings nothing but disaster. Those who enjoy perfection and almost flawless acting will find it here and the sweep of Miss Garbo's dramatic genius was never more apparent than in her difficult role of Karenina. Supporting the star is Frederic March as her lover and Freddie Bartholomew of "David Copperfield" fame is well cast as the son of Anna Karenina. Basil Rathbone are also featured. The photography is beautifully done in this show. The screen adaptation was by Salka Viertel and Clementine Dane and the play was under the direction of Clarence Brown.

2,900 Children Were Treated at Kiwanis Dental Clinic Here

Treatment of 2,900 school children on an average of five times each was heralded as the achievement of the Kiwanis Dental Clinic as described by Dr. T. Hampton Jones, Kiwanian and clinic doctor, who spoke to members of the club at the Governor Clinton Hotel, giving an accounting of the five and one-half years of the clinic's history.

Dr. Jones explained that the clinic serves children certified by the school nurses as needing dental work of one kind or another, whose parents are unable to furnish the funds for a visit to the regular dentist. On opening the dental clinic, and for the first year or so, Dr. Jones found that most of his patients were between the ages of 10 to 14 years, and that the majority of cases treated had to do with the extraction of the first permanent molar. "While we hate to extract permanent teeth in children, it was found that lack of care and proper food had resulted in advanced stages of decay, and extraction was the only thing left," said the clinic doctor.

By the time the clinic had been in operation two years the predominance of cases using the clinic had changed to eight to 12, and was concerned with occasional fillings and a number of extractions. The result of an educational program designed to prevent teeth trouble was becoming apparent, according to the doctor. The third year the educational program began to show extremely favorable results, but just as the fruits of the program were becoming noticeable the depression gripped Kingston and more tooth trouble resulted, based according to the speaker, on the lack of nourishing foods. The efforts of federal and state relief aids to supply food of the proper kind were thwarted, stated Dr. Jones, by the large amount of red tape which tied things up. The doctor called attention to the small amount of food supplied under home relief, which he explained was necessary in certain cases. Conditions from then onward became steadily worse and malnutrition was in evidence in the majority of cases.

In closing the doctor suggested that the Kiwanis Club develop a project to provide Cod Liver Oil, in some approved form to certain school children, as an addition to the diet they now receive. He was of the opinion the dental and medical ill would abate with the addition to the diet of certain vitamins for bone building and skin resistance.

Following his address, Dr. Jones answered many questions and general discussion developed. The speaker was introduced by Clarence Dumm, chairman of program for the month of October.

"Profitable production of hops in New York appears to be limited to those who can get yields of at least 1,000 to 1,500 pounds an acre. Apparently few persons have been able to get such high yields consistently. New varieties and developments of technique for control of insects and disease may in time, however, solve

HOONER BAND IMPRESSES AND GETS A RETURN "DATE"

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University has accepted an invitation to have its 110-piece marching band participate in the opening of the $12,000,000 Texas centennial exposition at Dallas next June.

The Indiana band was selected from among the college bands of the country because of its impressive showing at Dallas a few years ago when the Crimson football team met Southern Methodist at the opening of the Dallas municipal stadium.

The problem of low yields. Growers should not be too optimistic about hop production until after these problems have been solved conclusively.

TILLSON

Tillson, Oct. 24—Herman Osmers, a local public spirited citizen, has always been interested in the school and used his influence and earnest efforts for its betterment. He has further shown his great interest by presenting the school with a fine player piano. Mr. Osmers secured the piano, paid all expenses of loading and handling, brought it from New York and had it put in order by Winters of Kingston. He gives it to the school without one cent of expense to the district. The people are very grateful to him for this gift and all he has done for the good of the school. Tillson now has a school with all modern improvements, newly furnished and decorated, of which she may well be proud.

Mrs. Arthur Deyo was a Kingston visitor last Thursday.

The Rev. I. P. Emerick and wife with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. DuBois of Kingston were guests of Mr. Emerick's sister at Saugerties Sunday afternoon and evening.

The turkey dinner and fair of the Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church held last Saturday was a most successful affair. Nearly two hundred were served with the dinner and the various booths in the other part of the hall were very attractive and were well patronized.

School was closed last Thursday while the teachers, Miss Christina and Mrs. Hasbrouck, were attending the conference at Albany.

Miss Betty Van Soosten left Monday for New York where she expects to spend the winter.

Men were busy Sunday afternoon fighting a grass fire along the railroad tracks back of Rosendale Plains cemetery. Men were fighting small fires all day Monday, probably caused by hunters. Monday night's rain helped stop all fires.

Bakers' Meeting Saturday.

A regular meeting of the Kingston Bakers' Union, Local No. 151, will be held Saturday at the Union hall 7:45 p. m. All members and bakers in Kingston are requested to attend this meeting. Business of importance will be discussed by the organizer, Max Kloeppel, of New York city.

The Milwaukee lady who left $40,000 to take care of a dozen children, thought she was tender-hearted, when she was merely soft-headed.

On The Radio Day By Day

Time is Eastern Standard.

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—Two vocal pictures of developments in Africa are to be brought shortwave to America by CBS within the next few days.

The first will be Saturday morning at 11:45, when John T. Whitaker, correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, speaks from Asmara, Eritrea, to give the situation as it affects the Italians.

The other, that of the Ethiopians, will originate from Addis Ababa the next Wednesday afternoon at 6, from Josef Israel II, New York publicist, now in the Ethiopian capital.

A navy day special, part to be a description of the triple launching of a cruiser and two destroyers at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and the remainder to consist of a "Man on the Deck" question and answer bits from the U. S. S. Williamet at Chicago and a battleship of the Pacific Fleet at San Diego, is announced for CBS for 2 p. m. Monday.

With James P. Walker, former mayor of New York, due to return to his home shores after quite a sojourn abroad, next Thursday, CBS is making plans to put on a broadcast from his ship when it reaches quarantine. It is the hope, too, to include some Walker conversation in the transmission.

Democratic Opinion On Debt Equalization

The following letter expresses a Democratic opinion on the debt equalization plan that candidates of the Citizens' Committee charge has nothing to do with the city administration and that only the last Democratic state legislature and governor deserve the credit.

(Seal) STATE OF NEW YORK
Department of Audit and Control
Albany

Harry D. Yates,
Deputy State Comptroller.

Hon. C. Ray Everett,
City Treasurer,
Kingston, N. Y.

I was very glad to have your letter of October 2 and to receive a complete list of the bidders for the very successful sale on September 30 of $115,000 Debt Equalization Bonds.

I do not wonder that you are both pleased and proud of the price you received. So far as I know, there was a record number of bidders. The fact that twenty-two different banks and firms thought enough of the new bonds and the credit of your city to bid, is almost as gratifying as the price paid.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) HARRY D. YATES.

Heads Graduating Class

Rita DeCicco, daughter of Michael DeCicco, a justice of the peace of the town of Ulster, has been elected president of the 1935 graduating class of St. Vincent's Hospital, New York city. Miss DeCicco was a member of the class of 1934 but due to an operation she was compelled to withdraw from that class and resumed her studies later to become a member of the 1935 class which has honored her with the office of president.

Theodore Roosevelt's advice is still good. "Speak softly and carry a big stick." But don't brandish it.

Minstrel Show Largely Attended

The minstrel show of the Redeemer Men's Club at Holy Cross Parish House, Pine Grove avenue, Thursday night, drew an audience of more than 250, who enjoyed the songs, jokes and other features of the show. Tonight the second performance will go on, and expectations are that another large audience will greet the performers when the curtain goes up at 8 o'clock. Following the show Bill Smith's Society Orchestra will play for dancing.

Fish And Game Group Held Dinner Dance

A dinner dance was held Thursday evening at Golden Rule Inn, Ulster Park, by members of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association. There were 129 in attendance and following a chicken dinner dancing was enjoyed with Larry LaRochelle and his orchestra providing the music. The members of the association were disappointed in that their president, Benjamin J. Winne, was unable to attend due to a severe cold which confined him to bed.

The association, striving for a membership of 500 for the present year, has nearly reached that goal and the dinner dance was given to provide an evening of entertainment to members and friends so that they might become better acquainted. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to provide more fish and game for the fields and streams of Ulster county.

Gibraltar Grows Stronger Daily Under Spanish, British Efforts

By ALEXANDER H. UHL

Algeciras, Spain (AP)—The strategic zone of the Strait of Gibraltar, one of the most important in today's world, is being strengthened steadily by both Great Britain and Spain.

This narrow water, barely 14 miles wide, through which steams the commerce of the world at the rate of one merchant ship every half hour of the day and night, year in and year out, is the center of ever anxious care by Spanish and British military experts.

Spain's Outposts Numerous

Dominating the entrance to the Mediterranean is, of course, the grim 1,400-foot rock of Gibraltar with its powerful artillery snugly protected in rock tunnels, but on either side of the strait, Spain, too, has posts of protection.

Within a few hours flying distance from the strait are ten Spanish air bases, while the fortified port of Ceuta stands guard opposite "the rock" at the strait's narrowest point. On the European side are five airfields, at Cadiz, Seville, Granada and two near Cartagena, while on the African side there are fields at Aumara and Tetuan, one near Villa Alhucemas and two near Melilla. Spain has two naval bases near Gibraltar, one at Cadiz on the Atlantic, and the other at Cartagena on the Mediterranean.

British Ship Hugs Supplies

For the army Seville is a divisional headquarters, while Cadiz, Granada and Cartagena are brigade headquarters. In Africa, Tetuan is a divisional point while Ceuta and Melilla are brigade headquarters.

Great Britain's supply ships have been arriving daily at the rock with food and ammunition. Steel nets bar the port and swift destroy-

"Be prepared" is the watchword at Gibraltar where British and Spanish soldiers, sailors and aviators guard the western door of the Mediterranean. The photograph shows the port, with an English man-of-war under the shadow of the grim rock. The map locates naval, army and aviation bases on both sides of the strait.

Combined army, air and navy maneuvers are carried out frequently and the population of about 17,000 has been instructed what to do in case of attack.

Gibraltar, in military opinion, has one weakness, lack of landing space for airplanes. To meet this, the British have sent plenty of seaplanes

YUGOSLAV "BLUE SHIRTS" START REFORM CAMPAIGN

Belgrade (AP)—After the black, brown and other colored shirts worn by political partisans in various countries, Yugoslavia has its "blue shirts," or "borbashi," as the movement is called here.

At a meeting of the "blue shirts" held at Zemun, their leader, Svetislav Hodjera, demanded an energetic anti-corruption campaign and legislation: a reduction in government and state officials and a slash of pensions to persons not actually in need of them.

He also demanded that efforts be made to "recapture" Yugoslavia's industries which have fallen into the hands of foreign capital.

GRID VICTORY CELEBRATION MAKES TRAM A POLICE CAR

Denver (AP)—Because of an over-enthusiastic high school football celebration, a street car was turned into a patrol wagon here.

More than a hundred students, jammed in a tram after a night football game, began smashing windows and lights and rocking the car from side to side.

Police, hastily called, ordered the motorman to make a non-stop run direct to police headquarters, where Capt. Frank Campbell gave the young celebrants a stern lecture.

SPEEDY RICKSHAS SAID TO BE PEIPING'S PERIL

Peiping (AP)—Ricksha pullers must run slower, states an order of the Peiping bureau of public safety.

Congestion of rickshas on the streets has become so serious that the order was deemed necessary to reduce the number of collisions.

Passengers must not force pullers to run faster, and the ricksha men themselves are warned not to allow the promise of a little extra pay to get them up beyond the "speed limit," which is described as a "humane pace."

"DONATE OWN BUTTONS" ENGLISH VICAR PLEADS

Barnesbury, England (AP)—Buttons in the sabbatical collection plate, the world-wide base of clergymen, have wrung this heart-cry from the Rev. G. R. Dailene, vicar of St. James' parish here:

"Worshippers who are kind enough to contribute buttons to the collection are requested to bring their own—and not pull them off the hassocks."

Bookies Are Barred

Wellington, New Zealand (AP)—Bookmakers are still barred from New Zealand race courses, despite a strong agitation in their favor recently. One racing club recommended re-licensing of bookmakers, but the plan was rejected by the New Zealand racing conference.

Nazis Aid Slain Hard's Mother

Testimony At Inquest Into The Death of Henry Bush

At the conclusion of the afternoon hearing into the facts surrounding the death of Henry Bush at Allaben on September 7 last, an adjournment was taken by Coroner Howard B. Humiston until November 15 at 2 o'clock in order that any additional evidence might be submitted at that time. Bush was fatally injured by a car near the Log Cabin Inn at Allaben and taken by truckmen to his home where he was placed on the rear porch and the truckmen then left and notified the Dutcher family who reside nearby. When the Dutcher family went to the Bush home they found Bush in a critical condition, removed him to his home and called Dr. Quinn and the Troopers. Bush died on his way to the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. Dutcher testified that Bush talked to him when he first arrived at the Bush home but that later his talk was incoherent and it was impossible to get him to make a clear statement as to what had happened and repeated that it was a "bad job". At one time while they were discussing which ambulance should be called to convey Mr. Bush to the hospital he evidently misunderstood their talk and Mr. Dutcher said Bush thought they were discussing the reservation of an undertaker. His mind was never clear enough to make a statement as to what had happened.

Bruce Cowan, driver of the truck which it is alleged struck and ran over Mr. Bush, declined to make a statement to the coroner. He has been arrested on a charge of having been involved in the accident and is on bail. Gerald Roberts, driver of another truck which happened at the scene just before the truck driven by Cowan came along, also refused to make a statement to the coroner and appeared confused when asked if he desired to make a statement. He seemed not to understand when J. Edward Conway, who appeared for the People, and also William H. Grogan, who appeared for Cowan, attempted to explain that Roberts need not make a statement and that if he did any statement he did make might later be used against him. He said he had already made a statement to Judge Clancy at Phoenixia when he was in a nervous condition and he asked if he could have that statement read to him first. That statement was already in evidence before the coroner. It had been made and sworn to by Roberts in the presence of Troopers shortly after the accident.

Testimony Wednesday

Testimony was taken Thursday before Coroner Howard B. Humiston in an inquest held to determine the cause of death of Henry Bush who was fatally injured on the early morning of September 7 near the Log Cabin roadhouse, Allaben. J. Edward Conway conducted the examination of witnesses. William H. Grogan appeared for Bruce Cowan, driver of a caulkflower truck which was proceeding north from New York and which it is alleged struck the deceased as he walked along the road.

Henry Bush lived alone in a cottage about a mile or so from the Log Cabin. He had been at the Log Cabin during the evening drinking beer but no witness was sworn at the morning session who could testify that Bush was intoxicated. Joseph Gordon of Phoenixia testified Bush was at the Log Cabin at 1:30 o'clock and had been drinking beer but he said he would not say that at the time he left that Bush was drunk. Bush however remained at the place. It was about 4 o'clock, daylight saving time, that he was struck by a car and fatally injured. He was picked up by some truckmen and taken to his home where he was placed on the rear porch and the men went to the Dutcher home adjoining and notified the Dutcher family of the injured man's condition and the fact that he had been brought home injured. The Dutcher family called Dr. Quinn and also notified the Troopers. The men who brought Bush home did not remain but went on home to Fleischmanns. It was not the truck which brought him home which is charged with having been the one which struck him.

Doctors Testify

Dr. Jacobson and Dr. F. A. Johnson who performed an autopsy at the Kingston Hospital testified Bush died of injuries suffered by being struck with a heavy object, probably a car, and that death was due to the severance of an artery in the head and also from shock and injuries about the body.

Dr. Quinn of Phoenixia said he had been called by the Dutcher family and had gone to the Bush home where he found Bush in a serious condition, in fact dying. He ordered him taken by ambulance to the hospital but Bush died enroute. At the time he saw Bush the patient was in no condition to make any statement. On Bush he said he detected a fairly strong odor of alcoholic drink.

Trooper McGarvey of Margaretville testified that on the morning of September 7, about 2:05 standard time he was called to make an investigation of an accident near the Log Cabin at Allaben. Mrs. Chester Dutcher called. She said three men had brought Bush home in a truck and left him on his porch and notified her to seek aid. She told the Trooper she and her husband had called a doctor and also the Trooper to investigate. McGarvey went to the scene of the accident and saw Mr. Dutcher there and then went to the hospital where he learned Bush had died on the way down. At the scene of the accident he saw blood spots on the road and distinct tire marks on the pavement. Those tracks were made by dual tires. The tracks showed the front of a caulkflower truck on the lower road toward Kingston and then three or four trucks on the road from which those tracks led up for a few feet and then the tracks made a right turn statements made by Gerald Roberts and Bruce Cowan had been read to them and they had sworn to them in his presence.

William R. Sanford, owner of the Dunraven truck, which was operated by Cowan, was called as the next witness.

Sanford Testifies

Sanford, a middle aged man, said he was on his way home at the time from New York where they had been with a load of caulkflower. The accident he said happened at the Log Cabin above the Log Cabin at Allaben. At West Hurley their truck was passed by another truck going up. Several times after that he said his truck caught up with this truck and the tail light could be seen. The front truck stopped at times and they almost caught up. This set was repeated so many times that Mr. Sanford said the unusual procedure made him "bughouse". He said he was not used to having a truck pass him and then stop and wait and keep ahead. At one time the driver of his truck was going to pass the truck ahead but he told him not to and they slowed down to permit the first truck to remain ahead. On the concrete bridge at Log Cabin he again saw the tail light. The fact that this procedure had been repeated so often in the past he said he continued to watch the tail light rather than the road. It was annoying. Just as their truck was a few feet from an object he saw it and observed it was a body on the road. He said he did not know whether Bruce Cowan saw it or whether he too was looking at the tail light. At that rate he told Bruce to stop and the brakes were applied very hard and the truck stopped. The body lay cross-wise in the road when it was first seen, it was on the right side of the road as they went north. At the time the truck was in the center of the road. The feet of the body were toward the center of the road and the head toward the ditch on the right. When the truck was stopped the wheels looked and slid. He was uncertain whether it was 4 or 10 feet away when he first saw the body.

When the truck stopped he said he got out and went back and saw the body had been pushed around with the feet up toward Pine Hill. He said he did not believe the truck had run over the man as one of the occupants of the preceding truck had said. He believed the wheels shoved the body around without going over it.

He could not estimate the speed of his truck other than to say it had slowed down due to the appearance of the tail light of the other truck which had been seen so many times from West Hurley on up. His truck could not go over 33 miles an hour. Asked if he had not on a prior day told the top speed of the truck was 38 miles an hour he said he did not recall but the speed of the truck now was 33 miles an hour. It then cut out. His lights were in good order and were lighted. He said they were not following the other truck because their lights were bad. Their brakes were good.

The truck of Marion Bellows was at the scene when they arrived and it apparently was that truck which they had been following. Sanford said he got out and told Cowan to drive up the road and pull off to the right. The truck stopped ahead of the Bellows truck and 60 feet from the body. Three men also went back to the body, one was Bellows. Guy Barrett was another and there was a third man he did not know at the time.

When he got to the body he said he thought the man was dead. Someone took hold of the body and it was seen he was alive. He could not recall anyone lighting a match to look at the man but the third man at the scene identified the man as Bush.

There followed a discussion as to what care to give the injured man and to get him off the road and take him home. The second man there said Bush lived a mile away and Sanford said to take him home. The man referred to as the third man on the scene he said he learned was Gerald Roberts from the Bellows truck. The driver of a third truck which arrived was asked to take Bush home and he said "O.K." and went up to his truck and jumped in and drove off according to Sanford.

Took Body Home

The Bellows truck took the body home. Sanford said he told them he would notify the Troopers and he did call on Trooper McGarvey. What they did with the body he did not know. He could not say whether his truck left before the truck with the body had left or not. "Everything was taken care of when we left," said Mr. Sanford.

Asked by Mr. Conway if he had talked to Mr. Bush at the scene of the accident Sanford said he had. Sanford said he had told Bush to "tell us where you got your run and we will take you back there and let them take care of you."

Sanford said he did not first believe Bush had been hurt, he thought he had been in a scrap because his face and eyes were black and his head injured. At first Sanford said he thought Bush lay on his stomach but later said he believed he lay on his stomach after the truck passed but could not say how the body lay when the truck approached.

When the body was picked up the face was all blood the witness said. Asked if he knew then that Bush was injured he said he knew he was hurt. He felt so far when the truck passed the body and he said he did not believe the body was run over. It appeared to have been shoved around. He said he knew the truck did not pass over the body, he thought they would run over the man but the brakes were applied, the wheels locked and he believed the body was shoved off the road. He said he had not told the Trooper the body had run over a man, they simply reported what they had "found on the road."

Frank Barrett Called

Next came Frank Barrett of Fleischmanns who was in the Bellows truck with Gerald Roberts, driver. They were on their way home in a new Ford truck from New York. Barrett sat in the center of the seat. He said he saw the man on the road and said "It's a man" and the truck turned to the left and ran around the body going nearly to the fence. The truck was stopped and the idea was to get the man out of the road before the truck which was following struck it but before they could warn the other truck it came along and the front wheels were seen to bounce. The man on the pavement screamed. He said he could not say whether the truck ran over or shoved the man away. After that he said the body lay on its back and in another position than he had observed it when their truck swung past.

All from the Bellows truck went back and Roberts said the man was Henry Bush. Bush could talk then. He said, "Take me home". They all talked to Bush. He was placed in the Bellows truck and taken home.

"Bellows, Roberts and I took him home," said the witness. It was 10 or 15 minutes after the accident before they started home with him. Another car was asked to take him home but the man refused. This was a closed car the witness said. The witness did not see a third truck at the scene. On the way home he held up the injured man's head.

The witness said he held Mr. Bush's head while the trip was made to his home and on arrival they removed Mr. Bush from the truck and Bush said they would have to take him around to the back door. That door was locked and after knocking and getting no response Mr. Bush informed them there was no one in the house and told them to get his key and open the door. A search was made for the key on his person and when none was found they went to the Dutcher place some distance away and told the Dutcher that Bush was at his home and that he had been injured by an automobile and needed attention. The witness said they told Mr. Dutcher that they had been unable to get into the Bush home.

While on the porch at the Bush home the witness said Mr. Bush talked to them and told them he lived alone. At the time it was so dark they could not see if Mr. Bush were bleeding and his condition was not considered serious when they left his place to go to the Dutcher home for help.

The witness said the Dutcher told them they would call a doctor and the Troopers and suggested that they remain until the Trooper arrived but they decided to go on home to Fleischmanns and did. The Bellows truck was traveling about 30-35 miles an hour when it reached the scene of the accident and saw the man on the road.

Dr. Jacobson was called and testified as to the cause of death and what he found on the autopsy. He said death was caused by some heavy object striking deceased with great force and said that a car could inflict such injury.

Nelson Rosecrans of Andes was called. He said about 1:30 o'clock he passed along the road in the vicinity of Log Cabin. He was on his way from New York at the time. It was 2:30 daylight saving time. Along the roadway on the left he saw a man hanging on the guard rail. He had his hand on the post and appeared to be supporting himself. This was on the opposite side of the road from the Log Cabin.

Testifies Bush Fell

Joseph Gordon of Phoenixia was called next and he said he and a party were at the Log Cabin during the evening. About 2:45 he was dancing when he saw Bush come up from the men's room and as he entered the dance floor Gordon bumped into Bush and Bush fell. The witness said Bush had been drinking but he would not say he was intoxicated. He believed that it was the bump rather than Bush's condition which caused him to fall to the floor. Gordon said he wanted Bush up and took him to his table. It was not necessary to support Bush but he just did so. While Gordon was there he saw Bush have three bottles of beer.

Gordon said he never intended to lead the Troopers to believe that Bush was intoxicated or that he "reeled about the floor and interfered with dancers." The witness said he told the Troopers Bush had been drinking. Questioned further he said there were quite a few empty beer bottles at Bush's table and Bush apparently was alone. Bush did not stagger when he took his seat after falling. The witness said he had known Bush before the time. At this point a recess was taken until 1:30 o'clock.

Inquest Resumed

When the inquest was resumed, Frank Wallace of New York City, who had been working at Pine Hill, was called. Mr. Wallace said he had been up Bushkillville way and was returning to Pine Hill. He entered the main road at the junction and was being familiar with the route he turned the wrong way and drove toward Kingston for some distance before he discovered he was headed the wrong way. He then turned his car about and headed up but being sleepy he pulled off the road and dropped asleep. While asleep he was aroused by a trooper. He said he knew nothing of the accident, he had not been down the road so far as Log Cabin and knew nothing of the accident at all. He had been one of the men found in the vicinity and the trooper had been investigating all car drivers in the locality in their search for the driver of a hit and run car which might have struck Bush for at which time it was not known that one of the trucks later located had been the one which struck Bush. Wallace was not further questioned.

Mr. Conway explained that the examination of Wallace was done not because he was suspected but because the district attorney wanted the coroner to have a complete picture of the night.

Carlton Bellows came next. He said he was at Fleischmanns and was in his Ford on the way from New York when he came on the scene of the accident. Gerald Roberts was driving. Somewhere above Newburgh Bellows turned the driving over to Roberts. Bellows said when about 100 feet away they saw a Bush on the road and drove over to the left and around him a second truck came along and struck the man. He said he knew his truck had not struck the man. They ter was another innocent bystander. He had been on his way to Kingston when he ran out of gas near Highmount. He was in his car waiting for morning to get gas when the Troopers came along and questioned him. He said he had attempted to get gas but found the place closed and so he remained in his car until morning. He never had been down the road that night as he ran short of gas before he reached Pine Hill.

Thomas Peterson, brother-in-law of Henry Bush, who lives at Allaben, was called to identify a watch and the shoes of Mr. Bush as those of his brother-in-law.

Sergeant James Cunningham was called and testified that statements taken from Gerald Roberts and from Bruce Cowan had been made voluntarily and that he had witnessed them after they had been made and signed by the two men.

Adjournment Taken

Bruce Cowan declined to make a statement on advice of his counsel. He said Cowan had already made one statement in writing. Gerald Roberts also declined not to make a statement and the matter was adjourned to allow time to make further investigation and locate more witnesses if possible.

While it does not seem quite natural, it is a proved fact that fall is the best time to make new lawns. In the fall the moisture content of the soil is more uniform. Few weeds germinate at this season, minimizing the weed problem. Grass growth in cool weather is more favorable for quickly establishing a dense turf. This is because grass plants are inclined to stool out during cool weather, forming low-spreading crowns or tufts.

Carl Ryder of Delhi told about the same story as his driver. He said he knew the Bellows and Sanford trucks and they both passed his truck some where between Mt. Tremper and Phoenixia. He was driving about 30 miles at the time. Bellows went by first and Sanford after. They were close together and seemed to be following one another.

Heard Crash On Highway

Hartman Dutcher, son of Chester Dutcher, was next called. He said he had been out to the house of a neighbor that evening and about 3:15 o'clock he was going home when he heard a crash on the main highway. That was daylight saving time. He was about 1,500 feet away. He said the Dutcher home was a quarter of a mile from the Bush place. Later he saw a truck go up the hollow and it came back. There were three men in it. The men came to the house and requested that the Dutcher go up to Bush's place and care for him. Young Dutcher said about 3:45 they went up and found Mr. Bush on his back porch. Bush gave them the key which he had on a leather belt about his waist. They took him in and placed him on a rug on the floor and started to build a fire. At that time they attempted to converse with Bush but he did not reply. A half hour later Dr. Quinn came and the ambulance was secured and Mr. Bush was taken to the hospital. The witness said they locked up the house and went home.

When the man came to the Dutcher home they asked for aid and Mrs. Dutcher told them to wait until the Troopers came but they drove off.

The crash which young Mr. Dutcher heard he said attracted his attention to the matter. It sounded like a car had struck some object and he thought it might have been a fence. It did not sound like two cars coming together.

Chester Dutcher was then called. He said he lived at Allaben and about 3:35 o'clock, daylight time, someone called at his window and awoke him. They said Henry Bush had been hit. This startled Mr. Dutcher and he asked the men to wait. They told him that Bush had been taken home and placed on his porch. With that they stepped back and Dutcher told them to wait until the doctor and a Trooper came. Mrs. Dutcher went to call for a doctor and the Troopers and Mr. Dutcher said that when he saw the men leaving he asked his wife to put on the porch light so the number of the truck could be taken but the truck drove out of the yard before he could get the number. He and his two sons went to the Bush home. Bush lay on the back porch on his stomach. At the time he seemed to know Mr. Dutcher and when Dutcher talked to Bush about all he would reply was "bad job". He asked for water.

After being taken in the house Bush repeated, "bad job. I am not saying a word." This statement the witness said was a favorite one for Mr. Bush and meant little. Mr. Dutcher said he told Bush he did not know what he could do and Bush replied that whatever he did would be all right. Mr. Dutcher told him he would have to go to a hospital. Bush frequently asked Dutcher to turn on the log over. Later when the doctor came Bush heard the sound and asked if anyone was coming.

By this time Mr. Bush was looking stronger and understanding. During the discussion about ambulance Dr. Quinn said "Gordonia or Bush-hunt" and Mr. Bush said "you go to hell." This the witness explained indicated that Mr. Bush did not comprehend the talk. He explained that both ambulance and Phoenixia were owned by undertakers and he said he believed that Mr. Bush believed they were asking him which undertaker he desired to take charge of the funeral services and that Mr. Bush then made the reply.

Mrs. Dutcher Tells Some Story

Mrs. Dutcher told about the same story as to what happened at her home when the men came and asked for help. She placed the time between 3 and 4 o'clock when one was awakened by an ambulance horn. She said one of the men came and recognized Bush and had taken him home. It was stated that Bush was left outside because no boy could be found and one man asked Dutcher to go up and put Bush inside as it would be cold on the rear porch. A third man who she did not see said he could not wait as he had to go to Delhi and with that the truck backed out and drove away.

Rasputin Amulet Foiled Death Police Say Baroness Thinks

Barcelona, Spain (AP)—Faith that her life was saved by an amulet given to her by Rasputin, influential monk of czarist Russia, is ascribed by Barcelona police authorities to Baroness Maud von Thyssen, companion of Prince Alexis Mdivani when he was killed in an automobile accident.

The charm, a dried sardine, was listed by the baroness as among the contents of the bag containing jewels valued at 3,000,000 francs, which disappeared from the wrecked car.

Protection From Violence

The relic, according to this information, constituted an assurance against violent death to its owner.

The police said that the young Prussian beauty disclosed her faith in the charm when she recovered from the critical and scarring injuries which she suffered when Mdivani's car overturned on a sharp curve early in August.

She and the former husband of Barbara Hutton, American five and dime heiress who now is Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, had been attending a house party at the home of Mdivani's sister in Palamos, when they started their dash toward the French border.

She was quoted as saying that in the car she held on her lap a satchel containing the jewels, the amulet and a number of other articles which she described as "fetters". Since then the police have been prosecuting a search for the gems, but without success. Meanwhile the baroness, whose recovery was described by medical attendants as little short of miraculous, has gone to Germany for a long rest.

Peace Apostle Joins Call for New Defenses

By ROGER D. GREENE

London (AP)—Full-blast, British government propaganda guns are pounding England's traditionally slow-awakening millions to a realization of impending danger.

While a voluntarily subdued press plays down the war scare, to avoid creating general alarm, other channels are being brought into play to inform the people of possible jeopardy arising from what Ramsay MacDonald has termed "the gravest crisis since 1914."

For example, huge type in a series of quarter-page newspaper advertisements declares:

"The Navy League is working to arouse a slumbering people to the danger of its situation."

And at the same time, with a suddenly united voice, speakers of every political party have submerged factional differences to rally support for Stanley Baldwin's government in its crusade to preserve peace—even if that policy means war.

Party slogans are forgotten. Attacks on the government in power, ordinarily flaming at the approach of a national election, have ceased almost overnight as the European crisis momentarily threatens to boil over and engulf Britain in another mighty conflict.

A typical example was the speech of Sir Edward Grigg, M. P., in which he said:

"We are told that the demand for strengthening Britain's defense forces is not a good cry at election time. Who cares whether it is a good cry? It is a great call!"

Naval Building Fund Asked

A nation-wide appeal for funds to build up Britain's once mighty but now antiquated navy further drives home the warning of potential danger.

"Your fleet is still your life!" declares the Navy League. "Consider the facts. In our battle-fleet of fifteen capital ships, eleven will be over-age on December 31, 1936. If war were to come then, our sailors would have to fight in ships 20 years behind an enemy.

"For the support of our battle-fleet and the defense of our commerce there are only 50 cruisers, of which, 14, by the same date, will be over-age. Through lack of naval strength, we can no longer be sure either of keeping the peace or defending ourselves in war."

MacDonald Joins Chorus
Earl Jellicoe, World War fleet commander, at the Trafalgar Day dinner said:

"The British empire is absolutely dependent upon the sea for its existence. Now, to a very large extent, it is defenseless."

And MacDonald, the apostle of peace who suffered years of Coventry rather than yield to the 1914 war fervor, said:

"For some years this nation, under whatever party has been in power, has been reducing armaments. The government now has concluded that we have gone too far and has decided that our defense equipment must be made good."

Turkey Dinner

The Ladies' Aid of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Home streets, will hold its eighth annual turkey dinner in the assembly rooms of the church on Election Day, November 5, from 12 o'clock noon until 8 in the evening. The menu includes roast turkey, dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, peas, creamed onions, cole slaw, celery, cranberries, rolls, pie, coffee, tea, postum or milk. Ice cream will be on sale. The electric warming table will again assure everyone of a delicious hot meal no matter when they come. Many useful articles will also be on sale at a booth in charge of Mrs. Edward Snyder and Mrs. William Ellsworth. All members of the Ladies' Aid who are donating articles for this booth are requested to bring them to the church assembly rooms not later than Monday, November 4.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

What is probably the most looked at clock in New York, the one that gives Broadway its time from the top of the Paramount building, is undergoing repairs. It had had trouble. Hand trouble with the Paramount clock is a serious matter. The minute hand weighs a half a ton and the hour hand 999 pounds and there are eight hands on the clock. Whenever these hands failed to agree, a lot of gags were pulled and columnists wrote snappy paragraphs. But when it was discovered that the variation was due to an electrical action, it decided to obtain new hands of a different combination of metals, the old ones having had aluminum fronts and copper backs. A thousand pound clock hand, or even a six hundred pounder, tumbling into Times Square from a height of 33 stories would be no joke.

The Paramount clock began its work of giving time to Broadway nine years ago. It isn't hard to see. The east and west faces have a diameter of 15 feet and the north and south faces, 25 feet. The minute hands are 14 feet long and the hour hands, 10 feet. Complicated machinery is supposed to keep the eight hands moving together. But according to H. D. Wallace, superintendent of the building, who has charge of the clock, a lot of things may happen to cause them to record different hours on different faces. For instance, a heavy wet snowball might weigh down the hands on one side and cause a variation of as much as 20 minutes. An extra strong wind could do the same thing. Mr. Wallace does not enjoy having jokes poked at his clock.

It's even easier to see the Paramount clock at night than it is at high noon. The hours are marked by stars. Each star is illuminated by five 100-watt lamps. Sixty 25-watt lamps light the minutes around the rim. Each minute hand carries 120 25-watt lights and each hour hand, 80. There are 1,240 lights in the clock. Replacing lamps that go wrong is a task. The man who does it has to be extremely careful. A bump from one of the hands would mean a 35-story drop. The clock cost $40,000 and the repairs will cost $2,500.

Forty years ago, William H. Houghton was thrown out of Public School No. 3 over in Brooklyn because his teacher thought he would always be a bad boy. Recently, Mr. Houghton came back to New York after an absence of many years. He returned as head of the local secret service office as successor to Allan Straight, who at his own request, was transferred to Michigan. He joined the secret service in 1912, when the late William J. Flynn, who later became national head of the service, was the head of the local office. After being in service here five years, Captain Houghton was placed in charge of the Pittsburgh office. In 1921, he was made head of the Philadelphia office.

In Philadelphia, Captain Houghton made a record because of the way in which he cleaned up counterfeiters, there being practically none there now. He believes that counterfeiting is the poorest business in the world because the public is so solidly against false coins and always takes the side of the government. The way to detect counterfeit money, he holds, is to study good bills until every detail is registered in the mind. So expert is he that by merely looking at a counterfeit bill he usually can tell the gang that turned it out.

Many Wall Street regulars for some time have been mystified by the actions of a gigantic colored man who makes his appearance at frequent intervals. He walks along quietly, then breaks into a run. At top speed, he dashes through pedestrians and heavy traffic only to resume his leisurely stroll after a short time. Those who desire to question him haven't been able to catch him, so he remains a puzzle. As he does not harm and molest no one, the numerous policemen and guards do not seem to be interested in him.

If this one is old, may you blame Enoch Light because he told it to us while his orchestra was tuning up? Two drunks were standing at a bar when one suddenly let out a howl and announced that he had a kink in his right leg. His companion didn't pay much attention and a few seconds later, there was another howl with the announcement that the sufferer also had a kink in his left leg. "You got two kinks?" asked his companion. "You're beat—I got two aces."

This step is dropping: "She thinks she looks like Garbo and she does wear the same size shoes."

Takes Two Days to Travel Six Miles
Gold Beach, Ore.—Two Gold Beach youths recently returned here after the "roadster hike" in this section through the Little known valley of Lawrence creek. Ira Miller and George Steiner, who made the trip, said that at one point of their travels it took them two days to travel six miles. They frequently had to swim across deep holes. That was their swim on legs. They saw no other business while on the trip.

E. W. Pembleton to Succeed L. H. Doty

Eugene W. Pembleton, of the marketing and refining division of Cities Service Company, New York, has been made vice president and general manager of A. R. Newcombe Oil Company of Kingston. It was announced today. The appointment is effective as of November 1. Mr. Pembleton succeeds L. H. Doty, who had resigned.

Coming to the Kingston company after long service in other oil subsidiaries of Cities Service Company and in the organization's New York headquarters, Mr. Pembleton has served for the past nine years as executive assistant to the manager of the marketing and refining division of the parent company.

A native of Russell, Kansas, Mr. Pembleton entered the organization upon being graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1916. He was first affiliated with the Empire Companies in Bartlesville, Okla., where he was successively junior engineer, refinery superintendent, gas and cost engineer. His connection with the organization was interrupted briefly during 1918-19 for military service. From 1924 to 1926 he was technical assistant to the general manager of Cities Service Refining Company at Boston, and was brought to New York in the latter year.

Mr. Pembleton is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Sigma Tau and the Doherty Men's Fraternity. He is married and at present resides in Westfield, N. J., from where he will remove to Kingston within the next few months.

Dinner for Doty.
Monday evening the employees of the Cities Service Company of this city will tender Mr. Doty, who retires from the company the first of the month, a farewell dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Wednesday evening a testimonial dinner will be tendered Mr. Doty at Jack Fey's restaurant on Wall street. It is expected that the capacity limit of fifty people will be present, representing the major oil company heads and the business friends of Mr. Doty, who has been vice president and general manager of Cities Service subsidiary, the A. R. Newcombe Oil Company, since it was absorbed by the Cities Service.

Jackie Coogan Comes Into His Fortune

Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 25 (AP)—Jackie Coogan becomes of age tomorrow and into his control will pass the vast fortune which grew from his earnings as the greatest juvenile star of the silent motion picture era.

What the fortune amounts to, exactly, no one knows, except Jackie, his mother and their business manager. A movie colony consensus placed the figure at nearly a million dollars.

The Coogans have assiduously denied themselves to interviewers since their return from New York, and the business manager, Arthur Bernstein, flatly refused to discuss Jackie's financial status.

"He's going to be the target for every brand of shark, clip-artist and chiselers, anyway," Bernstein said. "And I don't mind telling you we're afraid of kidnappers. That's all I can say about it."

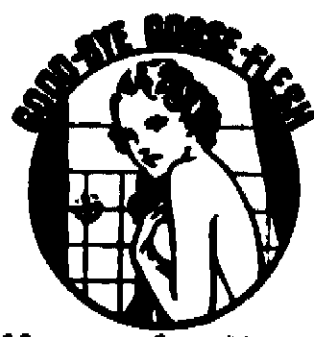

Jackie himself, dodged the question, replying, "I don't have any idea how much I'm coming into. My mother and Mr. Bernstein handled everything."

Ann Harding Granted Custody of Daughter

Los Angeles, Oct. 25 (AP)—Ann Harding, once accused by her divorced husband of being an "unfit person" to care for their seven-year-old daughter, Jan, was in sole custody of the child today.

The long and bitter legal battle between the blonde film actress and her former husband, Harry Bannister, ended late yesterday with an unexpected agreement giving only a few minor concessions to the father. The agreement between counsel for the two came after a hearing on Bannister's petition to obtain custody of the child.

His action had contested an order of the Nevada court which divorced them in 1932, granting Mrs. Bannister sole custody.

Miami's Young 'Tugboat Annie' Prefers Sea To Screen Career

By J. P. MCKNIGHT

Miami, Fla. (AP)—You can keep your movie contracts, so far as Miami's "Tugboat Annie" is concerned. She'll stick to her life on the briny deep.

Publicity brought pretty, 32-year-old Lillian Rast, Miami's and perhaps Florida's only licensed woman owner-pilot, many letters, among them one intimating she would qualify for the silver screen.

But she isn't interested, she says. She likes her trim, 36-foot cabin cruiser "Sea Bird". She likes to handle its wheel. She likes fishing. She says, in short, "It's the life."

"Ever since I was tiny," Miss Rast—who is only five-feet-three and 117 pounds today—explained, "I've liked the water, and fishing."

Why Not?
"I was born in Talma, Ind., on the Tippecanoe river, and we kids used to play in its waters all the time. Then my father started coming to Miami to fish in the winters. I always came with him. About three or four years ago I began spending nearly all the year here, going out fishing on other people's boats. And finally I asked myself: Why not buy one of my own? So I did. This is it."

A former rum-runner's boat confiscated by the United States Coast Guard in prohibition years and used to patrol Florida's shores, the "Sea Bird" is trim, roomy, powered by 90-horsepower motors.

Everything aboard it is ship-shape. Its neat, picture-hung cabin, the tiny, spotless oil stove, the shining glasses show its owner is no mere man.

Miss Rast, who resided in Fort Worth, Texas, before she came to Miami, lives near the boat in an automobile trailer, furnished in modernistic style with studio couch, vanity, oil stove and all the comforts of home.

Hates to Dress
Her favored garb is shorts and shirt. "I don't even go to Miami any more," she admits, laughing, "because I hate so to put on a dress."

The brown-haired, brown-eyed sea-

Capt. Lillian Rast, who pilots the "Sea Bird" in Florida waters, says: "Last year I weighed only 93 pounds. Now look at me." Among her landed by a woman.

woman, whose further claim to distinction includes catching two years ago the largest leopard shark ever landed by a woman, recommends her life to those needing to gain weight. "Last year," she said, "I weighed only 93 pounds. Now look at me." She looked all right.

This winter Miss Rast hopes for a family reunion aboard her boat. Her father, Lesley Steffey, of Knox, Ind., and her two sisters, Mrs. L. R. Wallace of the Wallace Ranch, Okla. City, Pa., and Mrs. Joe Wixson, Tulsa, Okla., all may come down to Miami, she says.

and Miss Hylah Bevier were in daughter, Miss Laura Borcharding, Cornellius Mayskens and his bride at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Everts on Wednesday evening of last week. The receiving line was composed of Miss Edna Dugan, president of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Everts, the hostess, R. Deyo Borcharding, president of the consistory, Charles Wells, Allan Crispell, Frank DuBois, Theodore Wright, Smith Woolsey, Malcolm Vandemark, and other members of the consistory. After congratulations had been extended, a purse was presented Mr. and Mrs. Mayskens by Deyo Borcharding with the best wishes of the congregation. Mr. Mayskens responded with thanks to all. A program was given consisting of cowboy songs, "The Wreck of the Ninety Seven," and "Little Joe the Wrangler," by Harold Marks, who accompanied himself on the guitar. A sextet, composed of Mrs. Roy Every, Mrs. H. F. Fleming, Miss Luther Dunsberry, Mrs. Floyd McKinstry and Miss Marion DuBois, accompanied by Floyd McKinstry sang "The Ole Uncle Moon" and "The Bells of St. Mary." Mrs. Arthur Kurtz sang "Morning" and "Philosophy," accompanied by Mrs. McKinstry. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and autumn leaves. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

James George, superintendent of the Reformed Church school, took his class of boys and Mr. Evert's class of West Point on Sunday afternoon where they viewed the dress parade and the many other interesting features of the base. Mrs. Gilbert Bevier, Charles Hall and Allan Crispell provided cars. Those attending were James and Gilbert M. Bevier, Lewis McIntosh, Emil Ellison, Edward Cromley, Frank Jayne, John Otis, and Charles and Billy George.

The Altar Society of St. Charles' Church will hold a card party at Moran's hall on Monday evening, October 28. Refreshments will be served. A small fee will be charged. Deer licenses may now be obtained at the town clerk's office. Around 80 members of the congregation of the Reformed church attended the reception of the Rev.

Mary A. Champion Will Is Contested

The will of Mary A. Champion, late resident of New York city, who died June 21, 1935, leaving an estate estimated to over $70,000, is being contested in surrogate's court in New York county. Mrs. Champion left a will by which bequests were made to various churches, friends, priests and others and then established two trust funds of $25,000 each. The income to be payable to Margaret M. Cowdry and Mrs. J. A. Murray as long as they lived and on the death of each the trust fund was to be divided between Gertrude Cowdry Glass, Edw. Cowdry of Newburgh and Joseph Cowdry of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. The residue of the estate under the provisions of the will went to T. H. Powers Farr who is president of the First National Bank of West Orange, N. J., and a resident of that place. He is also named as executor with his bank.

This will was drawn in July of 1927 and later in June of 1932 a new instrument was drawn up which revoked the two trust funds and gave Margaret Cowdry and Mrs. J. A. Murray $5,000 each outright. This eliminated Mrs. Glass and Edw. and Joseph Cowdry from benefit and the residue under the new instrument goes to Mr. Farr who benefited thereby to the extent of over $40,000.

Margaret M. Cowdry, Gertrude Cowdry Glass and Edw. and Joseph Cowdry are contesting the will and allege that Mr. Farr used undue influence.

In the will of Mrs. Champion the bequest to Mr. Farr was made to him "in recognition of the fact he was my husband's friend and financial advisor as well as mine, and that through his advice and careful supervision my estate has been greatly benefited during the past seventeen years."

The contest is being made to this codicil under which Mr. Farr becomes a large beneficiary and persons named in the original will are eliminated. It is the contention of the contestants that undue influence has been exerted by Mr. Farr in securing this change in the original document. The estate amounts to over $70,000 and the specific bequests are about $12,000. By revoking the two $25,000 bequests made in the original will and substituting two $5,000 bequests Mr. Farr, it is alleged, becomes the beneficiary to an additional $40,000.

It is alleged Farr directed preparation of the codicil and claims to have done so on request of decedent. Application is being made in New York county surrogate's court to examine Farr and his attorney as to the preparation and execution of the codicil and to examine Farr as to control and management of Mrs. Champion's estate during the past ten years. This hearing has been set down for Tuesday, October 29.

C. Augustus Meter of 31 Nassau street, New York, appears for opponents of the will, the First National Bank of West Orange and Mr. Farr, and has as his associates in the matter Leon R. Jilison of 46 Williams street and A. J. Grosse of Orange, N. J. John B. Kelley of New York city appears for Margaret M. Cowdry and N. Le Van Haver of Kingston appears for Edw. and Joseph Cowdry and Gertrude Cowdry Glass.

Ruth Nichols Follows Crack-Ups With 'The Old Army Treatment'

New York (AP)—Ruth Nichols, who shared honors for the first non-stop flight from New York to Miami before she was out of college, lies in a hospital at Troy, N. Y., recovering from burns and injuries received when a giant airliner in which she was a passenger crashed and burst into flames. But her friends are confident she will take "the old army treatment" when she has recovered sufficiently—and go up again.

She has been in crack-ups before—and has returned to the cockpit to establish new records for a woman flier.

Miss Nichols holds, besides her pilot's and mechanic's licenses, diplomas in millinery, dress-making and cookery, as well as a bachelor of arts degree, from Wellesley College. But she is far from being a "home body." She went from classroom to polo pony and from riding to flying for the sport and thrill of it.

Holds Altitude Record

In flying, at least, her thrills have been many. She set a woman's record for the transcontinental hop from Los Angeles to New York.

Five and a half miles in the air over Jersey City, N. J., she established an unofficial altitude record for women, and was credited by the National Aeronautic Association with attaining a height of 38,743 feet. This mark also was recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale as the official record.

At Detroit she broke the world's speed record for women, previously held by Amelia Earhart Putnam.

She made a sensational dash from New York to St. John N. B., on the first leg of a projected Atlantic hop, only to crack up while landing in the glaring light of sunset on a small field.

It was many weeks before she recovered from the injuries received in this crash. A wrenched back made a steel brace necessary, and wearing this she flew again as soon as she could move about. Abandoning plans for the Atlantic flight for the time being, she seemed off to establish a world's distance record for women—Oakland, Calif., to Louisville, Ky.

Near Tragedy Again

Thrills and near-tragedy were hers again when she prepared for the flight back to New York. Her trim monoplane burst into flames just as she was about to take off, and she leaped from the high cockpit to the ground, still wearing the steel corset. She escaped injury.

Set for a transcontinental hop in behalf of President Hoover's campaign for re-election, her plane was badly damaged at the take-off when it went into a skid and made a ground loop. She escaped injury.

Miss Nichols, who was born in 1901, doesn't like swift elevators and is uncomfortable on high buildings. She is the daughter of Erickson Norman Nichols and Edith Corlies Haines.

In 1919, while still a schoolgirl, she took a "joy hop" in a plane at Atlantic City. It cost her $10 for the five-minute spin, but it launched her career as a flier.

Five feet tall, weighing about 125 pounds, Miss Nichols is still single. "When the right man comes along," she has said, "I'll get married."

FLATBUSH

Flatbush, Oct. 24.—The T. X. T. Club is having a supper on Tuesday, October 23, at the clubhouse. Serving will start at 5:30 p. m. The menu is as follows: Hamburger, mashed potatoes, succotash, pickled beets, vegetable salad, bread, pie and coffee. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schlegel of Woodhaven, L. I., are spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. George Doll.

Miss Grace Robertson of Beloit, Wis., spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. John Moak of St. George's River Camp. Miss Robertson has just returned from a two-year stay in Egypt.

Mrs. C. Klotz, Mrs. C. H. Osterhout, Mrs. C. Ducker and Mrs. F. Kukuk attended the clothes remodeling meeting at the Home Bureau office on Wednesday.

Mrs. R. Schumann of Ulster Landing, who has been very ill, is convalescing at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. Davis.

Deaconess Meeting of New York city was a dinner guest of Mrs. John Moak.

Mrs. George Doll, daughter, Barbara, and nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schlegel, enjoyed a motor trip to Greeley, Pa., where they visited their aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kukuk, Miss Charlotte Edinger and Miss Wilma Jones motored to Brooklyn on Sunday to visit Miss Virginia Edinger, who is a student nurse at Wyckoff Heights Hospital.

Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kukuk on October 3 to celebrate with them their 10th wedding anniversary. Games were played and there was much laughter and jollity. After refreshments had been served the guests left, having thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

When Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klotz, who had been out, returned home on Thursday evening, October 17, they found a group of friends and neighbors awaiting them. There had come to surprise them upon the occasion of their 33rd wedding anniversary, and the surprise was a complete success. A pleasant evening was spent and after refreshments were enjoyed the guests left, well pleased with the success of their plans.

If some of these business enterprises are right, there may soon be a shortage of electric power.

Crack-ups and thrills are no novelty in the life of Ruth Nichols. The plane in the picture is the ill-starred white and gold monoplane which crashed at St. John, N. B., on the first leg of a projected hop from New York to Paris. Miss Nichols is seen in the furred suit in which she climbed to a new women's altitude record over Jersey City.

Important Improvements in Ride and Performance

It's HERE... the best engineered... the roomiest, most beautiful Plymouth we've ever built. The 1936 Plymouth is again America's most economical full-size car. Evidence indicates 18 to 24 or more miles per gallon of gas... low oil consumption... extremely low upkeep.

Among 40 improvements, the big Plymouth frame has been made 100% more rigid... bodies newly reinforced at five major points.

Eleven new comfort features have been added to Plymouth's famed Floating Ride... inches of extra leg, elbow and shoulder room. New sway-diffuser and twice-as-rigid frame provide the sliding smoothness you'd expect in this big car.

With a new steering design, there just isn't any trace of road shock at the wheel. More power and pick-up than you'll ever need... vibrationless Floating Power... easy clutch and gear shifting. You've never driven a car so easy to handle.

The new Plymouth Safety-Steel body is the sturdiest and quietest we have built. The 100% hydraulic brakes stop you quickly and safely. It's the safest low-priced car!

See... and drive... and ride in this beautiful new Plymouth.

Your Chrysler, Dodge or De Soto dealer will put a new Plymouth at your disposal, quick. (Ask about the official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan... payments to fit your budget.)

Ready for Opening Of Scout Financial Campaign Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the annual Boy Scout financial campaign in the Kingston district. Workers and leaders will gather this evening in the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock for dinner. Workers will be present from the city, Rosendale, High Falls and Port Ewen. The meeting this evening will be presided over by Clarence L. Dumm, chairman. Words of greetings will be brought from Mayor Holsman representing the city government, Superintendent H. C. Van Ingen representing the schools, the Rev. C. E. Brown, representing the Kingston Ministerial Association, and from R. F. Overhag, president of the Ulster-Greene Council. Following the words of greeting, Mr. Dumm will set the campaign in motion starting the work of raising $4,200 for the Kingston district's share of the budget.

Every effort will be made to cover as much ground as possible over the week-end so that the first reports on Monday night will at least reach the half way mark.

Additional workers reported this morning are: Ward 1, Pearl H. Carry, added to the list of workers; Ward 8, Harry Hutton added to the list of captains; Ward 9, S. J. Mesinger reports that Lee Powell, Charles Ringwald and Vincent Connelly have been added to his list; Ward 11, J. P. Collins has been added; 1st Ward, Ben Winne and Stanton Warren added; 2nd Ward additional workers are H. A. Miner, Emil Boesneck, Earl Tongue, Burt Schwab, Harry Halverson, Lloyd LeFevre and Frank Ebelheiser; 10th Ward William Leehive, Elsworth Haines and Ferris Williams have been added.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Margaret Anne Sprong, wife of Severn Sprong, died in Brooklyn on Thursday. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Miss Katherine Sprong. Burial will be in the East Greenbush cemetery at Albany on Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bessie Poorman, Cressler, wife of Charles E. Cressler, who died at her home, 468 Broadway, Sunday afternoon, were held at the Henry J. Bruch funeral home Wednesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Russell H. Gaenzle officiated. A large number of friends and neighbors attended the services. Burial was in the family plot in Wiltwyck cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Gaenzle conducting the committal service.

Nathan Van Steenberg, a life long resident of the town of Saugerties, and its oldest resident, died at his home at Cedar Grove on Wednesday evening, aged 82 years. Mr. Van Steenberg is survived by a number of nephews. He was born at Katskill and in his earlier years was engaged in the blacksmith business. He was the oldest member of William H. Raymond Lodge, No. 59, I. O. O. F., and the lodge was in charge of the funeral held at his late home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment Mountain View Cemetery.

Ernest F. Studt, son of Ernest F. and Naomi Steger Studt, and a well known and popular young boy of this city, died last evening following a short illness. Besides his parents, who have the sympathy of a host of friends in their affliction, he leaves three brothers, Leon, Clarence and Owen Studt, three sisters, Dorothy, Freda and Amy Studt, all at home. The funeral will be held from the late home, No. 72 Moore street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and 2:30 at the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church. The interment will be in the family plot in Montrose cemetery.

Perry Law died at his home in Alen Tuesday, in the 66th year of his age. He had been ill for some time. A wife, five daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kelly, Mary Law and Rose Law of Alen, Mrs. Joseph Underhill of Cementon and Mrs. Anthony McCarthy of Catskill; four sons, Thomas Law, George Law and Harry Law of Alen, and John Law of Catskill; and three brothers, Albert Law of Mt. Marion, Jacob Law of Schenectady, and James Law of New York, are the surviving family. Funeral services were held in St. Mary's Church, Cementon, this morning at 9:30. Interment St. Mary's Cemetery, Kingston.

Horace S. Maxon, for 32 years an employee of the J. T. Johnson Hardware store on The Strand, died Thursday night at the Kingston Hospital in his 58th year. He was taken ill only a few days ago. Mr. Maxon, who was born in Hurley, had resided in Kingston for 27 years and was widely known throughout the city. His long period of service at the Johnson store ended last September 1, when he retired. He was a member of Roundout Lodge No. 848, F. & A. M., and Charles DeWitt Council, Junior Order United American Mechanics. He had been for many years a member of the Roundout Presbyterian Church. Surviving are his wife, who before marriage was Ada LeFevre; his mother, Mrs. Syd Maxon, of Hurley, and one brother, Ambrose Maxon, of Hurley. The funeral will be held from the late home, 47 West O'Reilly street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the Hurley cemetery.

Ladies' Aid Dinner.
 Accord, Oct. 25.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will hold their regular monthly dinner on Thursday, October 31, at noon. The menu will consist of roast beef, mashed potatoes, lima beans, hot salad, apple pie, chicken, apple pie, cheese and coffee.

If we have any more of these quacks, the government will have to start propping up the Nation.

Music Study Club

Highland, Oct. 25.—With the following introductory the Bach-Handel program was rendered Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William B. Taber when she entertained the Music Study Club and the arrangement of the program was by Miss Edna Curry. "Bach and Handel were born in the same year—1685. These two masters are sometimes spoken of as the Siamese twins of music, but in many respects they show a contrast rather than a resemblance. Both left great religious works in the world and elevated German music to the highest place, but Bach represents the culmination of the older style while Handel foreshadowed the newer school of dramatic and harmonious expression." Reading, George F. Handel, Mrs. M. E. Maynard, piano solo, "The Harmonious Blacksmith," Handel, Mrs. Edward Kaley, vocal solo, "Love Ye the Lord," (Largo) Mrs. George Hildebrand, piano duet, (a) "Hornpipe," from Water Music, (b) "Aria," from Fire Music, Mrs. N. D. Williams, Mrs. J. W. Blakely, vocal solo, "Leave Me to Languish," Mrs. William Lala, piano solo, "Capriccio, No. 11," Mrs. J. W. Blakely, vocal duet, "Hallelulah Chorus," Mrs. George Hildebrand, Mrs. William Lala, vocal solo, "He Shall Feed His Flocks," Mrs. Edward Kaley, reading, "The Life of Johann Sebastian Bach," Mrs. Helen D. Brown, piano duet, "Faravan," from the sixth sonata in D major, Mrs. Martha C. Schantz, Mrs. J. W. Blakely, piano solo, "Ave Maria," Mrs. Willard Burke, talk, "Resume of the work done in music in the schools of New Jersey," Mrs. Howard Barton, vocal solo, "Rejoice Greatly," Miss Rose Symes. Two guests were present, Mrs. Fred Hamilton and Mrs. Philip Wilklow, and delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Taber and Mrs. Dora Wilklow to the 30 guests.

Leon P. Carey Heads Woodstock Sports

Woodstock, Oct. 25.—At a meeting to elect officers for the Woodstock Winter Sports Association Monday evening Leon P. Carey was elected president; Louis Lewis, vice president; George A. Neher, treasurer; Mrs. Warren Hutter, secretary. Arnold Wiltz was elected to head the technical committee. The two membership committees, to compete with each other in a membership drive were headed by W. S. Elwyn and Albert Cashdollar. Mr. Elwyn has as assistants, Monroe Longendyke and Norman Smith. Under Albert Cashdollar are Henry Hout, Norman T. Boggs, Jr., William Pierpoint and Mrs. Marion Bullard.

Reports were made on plans for toboggan slides, skating rinks and ski trails. It was reported that the New York Central Railroad will cooperate by providing week-end trains at excursion rates. Besides the facilities offered by this organization there will also be those sponsored by Charles I. Ferguson and his Graphic Arts Club in Mink Hollow. Mr. Ferguson has already built a ski jump and is at work on skating rink and toboggan slide.

ANNUAL MISSIONARY CONVENTION OCTOBER 27-29

The annual missionary convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, 203 Greenkill avenue, will be held at the Nazareth Tabernacle, corner Elmendorf street and Wittig avenue, October 27 to 29 inclusive, at 7:30 each evening. The speaker will be the Rev. E. Torvaldsen who spent about 25 years as a missionary in China. He will illustrate two of his messages with stereoscopic slides. There will be special instrumental and vocal numbers rendered by Oliver Wirth of Hurley, Robert Wirth, the Fatum quartet, Miss Frances Pelham, Walter Hahn and Robert Fatum. Everybody welcome.

PIONEER ENGINE CO. TO HAVE BASKETBALL TEAM

Pioneer Engine Co. members, Ellenville, are planning to put a basketball team in the field this season. At a meeting held this week DeLoise Craft was elected manager of the team, with Clyde Benson as assistant. There was a time when the Pioneer team could put up an argument with any of the amateur teams in this section. Most of the players of that day are now either overweight or much less inclined to strenuous exercise.

SEPTEMBER PLACEMENTS BY ULSTER COUNTY NRS

COTTICKILL

Cottickill, Oct. 25.—The Jr. O. U. A. M., No. 168, will hold an oyster supper in the Reformed Church Hall Friday evening, November 1. Supper from 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Roy Winchell and some friends of Poughkeepsie spent Tuesday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beach, daughter, Mary Edna, and son, Oscar, Jr., spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Beach of Rosendale.

Mrs. Arthur Deputay spent Wednesday in Kingston. Her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Smedes, returned home with her to spend the week-end.

A very important meeting of the Kingston Players' Guild was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. Several new members were taken into the organization and committees were appointed. Following the business meeting, rehearsals were held for the three one-act plays to be presented some time next month at the Kingston High School auditorium.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—Bulls on stock specialties broke no opposition in today's market and prices of selected issues surged forward to new high levels for the past four years or so.

It was a pick-and-choose session, however, and many of the rails, utilities and other past leaders were content to hold their heads above water. Grains were rather neutral and cotton eased. Bonds were a bit improved. Foreign exchanges were slightly mixed.

Shares of Coca-Cola spurted 5 points and Liquid Carbonic, American Telephone and Chrysler advanced 2 each. Others up fractionally to around a point included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Western Union, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Collins & Aikman, Marshall Field, Kellogg, General Motors, Graham-Paige, Lambert, Goodyear, Westinghouse, Simmons Co. and Crown Cork. The coppers were backward and the oils were little better than steady.

Doris Lee Wins First Prize for Oil Painting At Chicago Exhibit

Chicago, Oct. 25 (AP)—Modernistic tendencies blotted out the cubistic influence at the opening today of the annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture at the Art Institute of Chicago. Use of strong, bright colors, occasional whimsical touches and a new interest in the American scenes marked the exhibition, considered one of the most important in the United States.

Medals and cash prizes totaling $1,800 were awarded to seven paintings. Miss Doris Lee, of Woodstock, N. Y., won first place for painting "Thanksgiving," depicting women preparing the holiday dinner. She received the Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan Art Institute Medal and $500.

Miss Lee is a native of Aledo, Ill. The other $500 award went to Clyde Singer, of Halverson, Ohio, for landscape, "Sandy Valley." He also received the Norman Walt Harris Silver medal.

Other awards included the M. Y. Kohnstamm prize of $250; Philip Evergood, N. Y., for "Evening Reading," depicting two young men lounging.

Miss Lee, in private life, Mrs. Russell Lee, has been associated with the Woodstock colony for about five years, and is a consistent exhibitor at the Art Gallery shows each summer in the mountain village.

$15,000 Fire Today In Poughkeepsie

Fire that broke out about 9:30 o'clock this morning in the basement of the bicycle and toy shop of David Haber at 159 Main street, Poughkeepsie, did damage estimated at $15,000 before it was brought under control by the fire department. One fireman, Joseph Schulp of the Young America Hose Company was overcome by smoke, but recovered later when treated by the fire department physician.

About a dozen of the firemen were injured by flying glass and smoke. The most seriously injured was Louis Crauer, who is president of the Exempt Firemen's Association, who was cut by glass.

The basement was filled with Christmas goods and the fire, which broke out in the basement soon filled the building with smoke and the smoke also damaged the buildings on either side.

The fire was of undetermined origin. The Haber store is located in a three-story building. The first floor being occupied by the store while the Haber family occupied the second floor as living apartments, and the third floor was also occupied by another family as living apartments.

NO DIVINE VOTES

Negro Leaders, Followers Apt To Lose The Ballot

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—Satisfied Love, Truth, Delight, Snow Daily, Rebecca at the Well and more than 70 other negro followers of Father Divine, Harlem Religious Leader, won't be able to vote on election day.

The names were ordered stricken from the registration rolls by Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy, today, when Russell Lord Tarbox, assistant corporation counsel, said Father Divine's "Angels" had failed to comply with an order directing them to furnish their original names in registering.

Abraham Unger, counsel for the negroes, contended any person is legally empowered to change his name. Justice Levy thought otherwise.

 Italian Air Tactics

Asmara, Eritrea, 12:15 p. m., Oct. 24.—Count Galeazzo Ciano gave me a graphic demonstration today of Italy's modern, aerial warfare tactics against the more primitive, ground tactics of the Ethiopians. While bullets from below whizzed harmlessly past the roaring planes, the Italian pilots dropped bombs and scattered the Ethiopian warriors in every direction during a night far past the advancing Italian lines on this northern front.

With seven others, I flew with Il Duce's son-in-law and his "despatch" aerial squadron straight out of Asmara, over Aduwa to Makale and 40 miles ahead in the Italians' search for enemy concentrations. Count Ciano plunged his plane toward the earth frequently at suspected concentration points of the Ethiopians who were hiding in the brush of the Makale region, about 50 miles southeast of the most advanced points of Italy's northern army.

Whenever observers spotted large groups of natives concealed at any certain point, the squadron roared into nose-dives and the machine guns blazed.

Although puffs of smoke indicated we were being fired upon by rifles from the ground, when the aircraft levelled off and the Italians tossed their bombs, I could see Ethiopians fleeing on all sides.

Our squadron was the target for fire both as we passed Makale to the west and as we returned from the four-hour reconnaissance flight.

At the start, we flew above thousands of shacks housing workmen in the new country being conquered by Italy, but we lost sight of these reassuring signs of the work points on the front soon after passing the Mareb river.

What had been a picture of civilization suddenly became an impression of miles of tumbled mountains and great natural tables as we flew at a speed of 125 miles an hour. Although the flat expanses of ferred opportunities for landing, we did not do so—the Italian officers assuring us that no matter how inviting the topography might be, a reception by hundreds of thousands of Ethiopians would not prove so cordial.

 12,000 To Front

Harar, Ethiopia, Oct. 25.—Twelve thousand well-equipped Ethiopian infantry, cavalry and anti-aircraft troops, the main body of the Harar regulars, started for the southern front today after being reviewed by Ras Nasibu, who will command them in battle against the Italians. Led by 2,000 heavily-laden camels, the soldiers rumbled southward in American-made motor trucks toward the Fascist forces led by General Rudolfo Graziani.

The Abuna, or bishop of Ethiopia's Coptic Christian Church, blessed their colors and cathedral priests gave the soldiers absolution.

Almost fanatical Galla women, weeping, singing, shrieking and indulging in lamentations, lent a true oriental touch to the scene.

Ras Nasibu, governor of Harar and a principal Ethiopian commander in the south, told the Associated Press that Jijiga, 50 miles to the east, would be one of the main points of defense on the southeastern front.

The chieftain, who appeared to have aged considerably under the stress of the war since this correspondent last saw him a month ago, expressed confidence that he had sufficient men and munitions to hold the city of Jijiga successfully.

He laughed at reports that Ethiopians had suffered heavy casualties on the Ogaden front, either from Italian gas or bombs.

"The total casualties resulting from Italian air bombing at Gorrabel and points along the Webbe Shibel river were five killed and three wounded at Gorrabel and one Somali killed at Katama Tafari," he said.

the problem was solved, and held the close attention of his large audience as he explained the blue print.

Mayor Heiselman also touched upon the industrial situation in Kingston and called attention to the fact that last year he had appointed some 35 representative business men of the city to act as an industrial committee to induce industries to locate in the city. So far this committee has been successful in bringing two new industries in the city, one to be located in the old Columbia shirt factory on O'Neil street and the other in the former Pelen plant on Broadway, adjoining the Y. M. C. A.

The mayor said that within the past week representatives of a shoe factory and another concern were in Kingston meeting with members of the industrial committee and looking over the ground here. These two concerns employed about 300 men each.

Alderman Paul Zucca opened the evening's program by leading the audience in the singing of America, followed by some old popular favorites. Dan Bittner presided at the piano in this usual efficient manner.

The entertainment of the evening was furnished by Fred L. Van Deusen, widely known local magician, with a bagful of new tricks. He was heartily applauded.

Mrs. Couch gave a most interesting address on national affairs, and urged that Assemblyman Conway be returned to office by a much greater majority than in other years. She said that in Rockland county they were working hard to send a Republican assemblyman to Albany. The election of a Republican assemblyman this year would be a notification to Washington that New York state did not approve of the Roosevelt program, which was plunging the country into such debt that our children's children would still be paying for it in the years of the future.

Harry H. Flemming gave a stirring address devoting his time to a discussion of national affairs. Both he and Mrs. Couch touched on the many rules and regulations with which the government under the direction of Roosevelt had bound the hands and feet of the people. About the only thing left that was free was speech.

District Attorney Murray also devoted the greater part of his address to comparing the Roosevelt record of today with what Roosevelt said in public addresses in 1928 when he sought election as president, and said they were as far apart as the north and south poles.

Alderman John J. Schwenk spoke briefly and was greeted with hearty applause.

It was announced that the next meeting of the club would be held next Thursday evening.

PORT EWE

Port Ewen, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Arthur Schlighner of Bowne street had the misfortune to fall and break her wrist Monday.

Mrs. Samuel Pardee of Saugerties was a visitor in town Wednesday and attended the turkey supper held in the M. E. Church house in the evening.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a food sale in Spinnecrover's lunch room Saturday afternoon, November 9, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Matilda J. Major, collector of School District No. 13, is collecting taxes at her home on Schryver street, until November 11, at 5 per cent.

Mrs. William Clark is in of grip at her home on Schryver street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howe and son, Raymond, Jr., spent Sunday with relatives in Union City, N. J.

The turkey supper served in the Methodist Episcopal Church house Wednesday evening was largely attended and the entertainment held afterwards was greatly enjoyed. This evening a turkey salad supper will be served and a most interesting entertainment will be given at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Woolley of West Winfield is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Woolley.

The annual fair of the Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held in the church house October 23 and 24. A turkey supper will be served the first evening and an entertainment will be given each evening.

Scaffolding at Bank Removed

The scaffolding which has been in use during the reconstruction and alterations at The National Union County Bank of Kingston at John and Wall street, has been removed revealing a very different appearing building. The exterior has been faced with brick and trimmed with white composition stone in a type of architecture which lends height to the building. Workmen are now engaged in completing the front entrance which was left until the scaffolding had been removed.

A second floor was added to the building and joined to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Entrance to this office is from a new entranceway on John street while the entrance to the bank remains on the Wall street side. Many very favorable comments have been heard of the improved appearance of the building which was removed under the direction of Gerard Box.

Bureau Held Square Tonight

Theresa West and Laddie Co. is holding a dance tonight in the Metropolitan Hall. Music will be furnished by the Ambassadors. The public is invited.

Troy Times Record Endorses Flemming

The Troy Times Record of Thursday evening discussed the judicial situation in the Third Judicial District in its leading editorial. The Times Record described the way in which the Democratic machine refused to endorse Judge Staley and made the Democratic nominations for justice of the Supreme Court. The Troy newspaper advised that the voters of the district ought to rebuke this kind of un-American intrigue.

In conclusion, the Times Record stated:

There are two justices of the Supreme Court to be elected this fall; and the Record does not hesitate to express itself as hoping that Mr. Flemming as well as Justice Staley may be chosen. Mr. Flemming has a brilliant record behind him as a lawyer, has held office and proved his fairness and his capacity and has won a commendable popularity wherever he is known. He stands on a so much higher level than the opposing candidates that even a strict opposing partisan would be warranted in giving him his vote. He has had 33 years of legal experience a general practice dealing with all manner of problems. If he and Judge Staley are elected every man who may appear in the Supreme Court seeking justice will feel confident that here are two men to whom he can safely trust his case.

Health Meeting in The Town of Olive

An intensely interested audience attended the Town of Olive health meeting at the I O O F Hall at Olive Bridge on the evening of October 22. Dr. Bibby, health officer of the township, introduced the speakers. Dr. Frederick Holcomb, superintendent of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, gave a very interesting talk on tuberculosis, the work done at the hospital and explained the tuberculin test for school children. Dr. Holcomb told of the decrease in the tuberculosis death rate in Ulster county, which has been very high for the past 25 years.

James F. Loughran a very active member of the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, showed a movie of the "Story of my Life by Tee Bee" which brings out the subject of tuberculosis and contacts very clearly. At the close of the meeting Mr. Loughran also showed movies he had taken at Camp Happiland, Ulster County's health camp for undernourished and underprivileged children. He told the audience of their share in the splendid work which is done by their purchase of the tuberculosis Christmas Seals during the holidays.

Arrangements were completed by Miss Murphy, county nurse and the teachers of the district to hold tuberculin test meetings, one at Olive Bridge I O O F Hall on Monday, October 28 at 1:30 p. m. and at Shokan school Tuesday, October 29, at 1:30 p. m. where Dr. George Weber, resident physician of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, will give the tuberculin test to all pupils whose parents have signed a request slip previously distributed in all the schools of the township.

Jelly Bear Speaks
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
ALL the Puddle Muddlers laughed at this, and Jelly Bear did, too, even though the joke was on him.

He stood up now and growled: "Puddle Muddlers, it soon will be Willy Nilly's birthday. And we bears thought it would be wonderful if we did all we could toward helping him with his chores."

"Instead of merely wishing him many happy returns of the day when it comes, and instead of giving him presents it seems to me that we could help him tidy his house, gather wood for him, store the vegetables, put away apples."

"Where would you put them away?" asked Top Notch. "In your selves!"

"No, no, growl, growl, we had no such ideas in mind at all."

"All right," said Top Notch. "I just want to know. That was all."

"Order!" commanded Christopher Columbus Crow and struck the rock with a stone he held.

Jelly Bear continued speaking: "We could even help him paint his roof and house, and we could carry tools for him when he was doing the work of repairing the roof."

"You put the cart before the horse as the old saying goes," chuckled Top Notch.

"What?" asked Jelly Bear.

"The roof would have to be repaired first and the painting done afterward," answered Top Notch. "You're so bright, Top Notch," quipped Mrs. Quoncho. "It's a good thing the world is big so it can hold you."

"Order!" commanded Christopher again.

Tubercular Cattle Eliminated.

Recent Pleasant Twp. (N. Y.)—Selling to eliminate all tubercular cattle in Pleasant Twp. Franklin and Thomas, a crew of veterinarians found cattle here for two months. About 2,700 cattle were found to be tubercular, and all of them were destroyed by the government.

Sailors' Day is celebrated each year throughout the United States on the fourth Sunday in October. Its purpose is to call attention to the value of merchant seamen to the life and progress of the nation and to memorialize those who have given their lives in devotion to duty on the high seas, protecting passengers and cargoes.

Fifteen herds in New York dairy herds have been tested and averaged more than forty pounds of butterfat to the cow during September.

Scout Captains Will Get Tramping Course

Miss Velora Davis will meet the Girl Scout captains on Saturday at the entrance to Forgyth Park at 1:30. She will conduct them on a hike instructing them in tramping and tramping, and in outdoor games. It is hoped that all Girl Scout captains in Ulster county will attend. Each girl is requested to bring an apple and a chocolate bar. An enthusiastic meeting was held last night with Miss Davis, many captains and council members being present.

Witch Eyes, Black Magic

It is not only in the animal world that "witches" occur. Even in man, lords of creation, albinism is seen, says Tit-Bits Magazine. At a casual glance albino people can be taken for pronounced blonds. On close inspection, however, it is seen that their hair is truly white and their skin is absolutely without pigment. For the latter reason albinos suffer greatly from sunburn.

Their eyes, too, lack pigment and, therefore, appear to be pink in color. Before the Middle Ages such eyes were called "witch eyes," and many a poor, pink-eyed albino was called unholy by his superstitious fellowmen and found an unhappy end at the stake. Besides the rather unattractive appearance of such eyes, they present further disadvantages to their owners. Since they are not protected from bright light by pigmentation, as normal eyes are, albinos suffer greatly because of the sensitiveness of their eyes to light, and that is why they see very badly in the sunlight.

SCIENCE ends DANGER of WINTRY HOMES

New discovery cuts fuel bills 20 to 35% —makes homes easy to heat is absolutely necessary to make a machine run. If something prevents a machine from getting sufficient power, it cannot do its work properly.

The human machine gets its life power from the brain, from which it is dispatched through the spinal cord over the nervous system to every cell in the body. If the lungs, heart, stomach, kidneys, liver, etc., or any part is weak or not working right, something somewhere is cutting off some of the power.

IN MOST ALL CASES THIS POWER IS WEAK BECAUSE OF PRESSURE ON A NERVE WHERE IT LEAVES THE SPINE.

Chiropractic Adjustments release this pressure and the power gets through.
